A solitary backward glimpse at shoes scuffling carelessly

down a corridor,

reminds us

of almost forgotten years:
The years we raced

a tireless clock

Not troubling

to ponder why,

nor to seek direction.

Only

to pull or push,

to laugh . . .
or cry.

Perhaps,
 we remember most
 the moment before we return,
 When a final summer flower flirts with bygone springtime promises.
 Ebb tides lost,
 Sandals buried,
 And shells, carefully gathered to be left on a silent beach,
 Remind us
 that autumn has come.

 A time to remember.
 A time to return.

 The cool leaves ride quietly
 on the frosty air, and we anticipate
 a forgotten friend's smile,
 a new locker,
 the binding of a book,
 a new tradition,
 a new school,
 a new year.

 In time,
 we discover the goals misplaced
 beneath a question.
 We had returned.

School begins with a changing season
and a changing attitude.

The coming of fall draws us away from summer's pleasures and submerges us

in work,
in routine.

We relearn

to seek out our separate goals,
But are drawn together in the spirit of the team.

Singleness of spirit

marks the true being.

To seek alone what the team claims collectively

is the task of each who participates.

A shadow is the mirror of the individual.

To glance at moving ground

beneath aching feet

and feel the monotonous thuds,

the hands of the wind

and the warmth of the sun

on a tired face.

In offbeat moments sought after,
 When thoughts of forward steps,
 and means to penetrate a routine world,
 Are captured —
 a dreamer walks beneath the trees.
 Stopping,
 bending
 to pick one slender thread of grass, and holding it against a delicate hand —
 Which is more alive?

Sometimes in solitude

we ask

important questions and a greater solitude

answers.

Sometimes,
laughter disrupts
a sleepless dream,

and teasing questions
are muffled

By a cheer
or cry.

Sometimes,

we forget

that the questions we ask

Are our own,
and can only be answered

by us.

All we have accomplished can be seen and felt in a reflective moment.

But ask how an instant can weld goals and relationships.

The language is an answer.

It is a means to ask tomorrow

if yesterday's promise was kept.

Meaningful statements grow out of confusion conceived as questions.

And language invites response.

Communication

allows us to seek tomorrow and find the truths

We thought we lost

beneath the routine of the day.

Classes Resume at Southern Wayne High

BY MARTHA STOKES

Classes at Southern Wayne Senior High school resumed yesterday morning under the protection of the Sheriff's Department at the request of the Wayne County Board of Education.

From 300 to 350 students remained out of class today, officials at the local high school reported. Southern Wayne

Mount Olive Police, the Highway Patrol, and the Mount Olive Rescue Squad were summoned. No physical damage was done to the building and the disturbance was under control by 8:45 a. m.

Special Meeting

Wayne County's Board of Education voted in an executive session to hold school Monday after hearing testimony from several persons that children

September found us again, caught up in the ties of redefining

what once we knew was truth.

And to those
for whom discovery

has not been a reality,
the search of a frame for time is still the meaning of tomorrow.

The season we renewed a spirit

built in time;

when we strengthened

a tradition set by a goal;

And claimed a victory
in withstanding a tragedy;

when we sought a better beginning to find a truer end,

And discovered ourselves . . .

Tomorrow's Yesterday

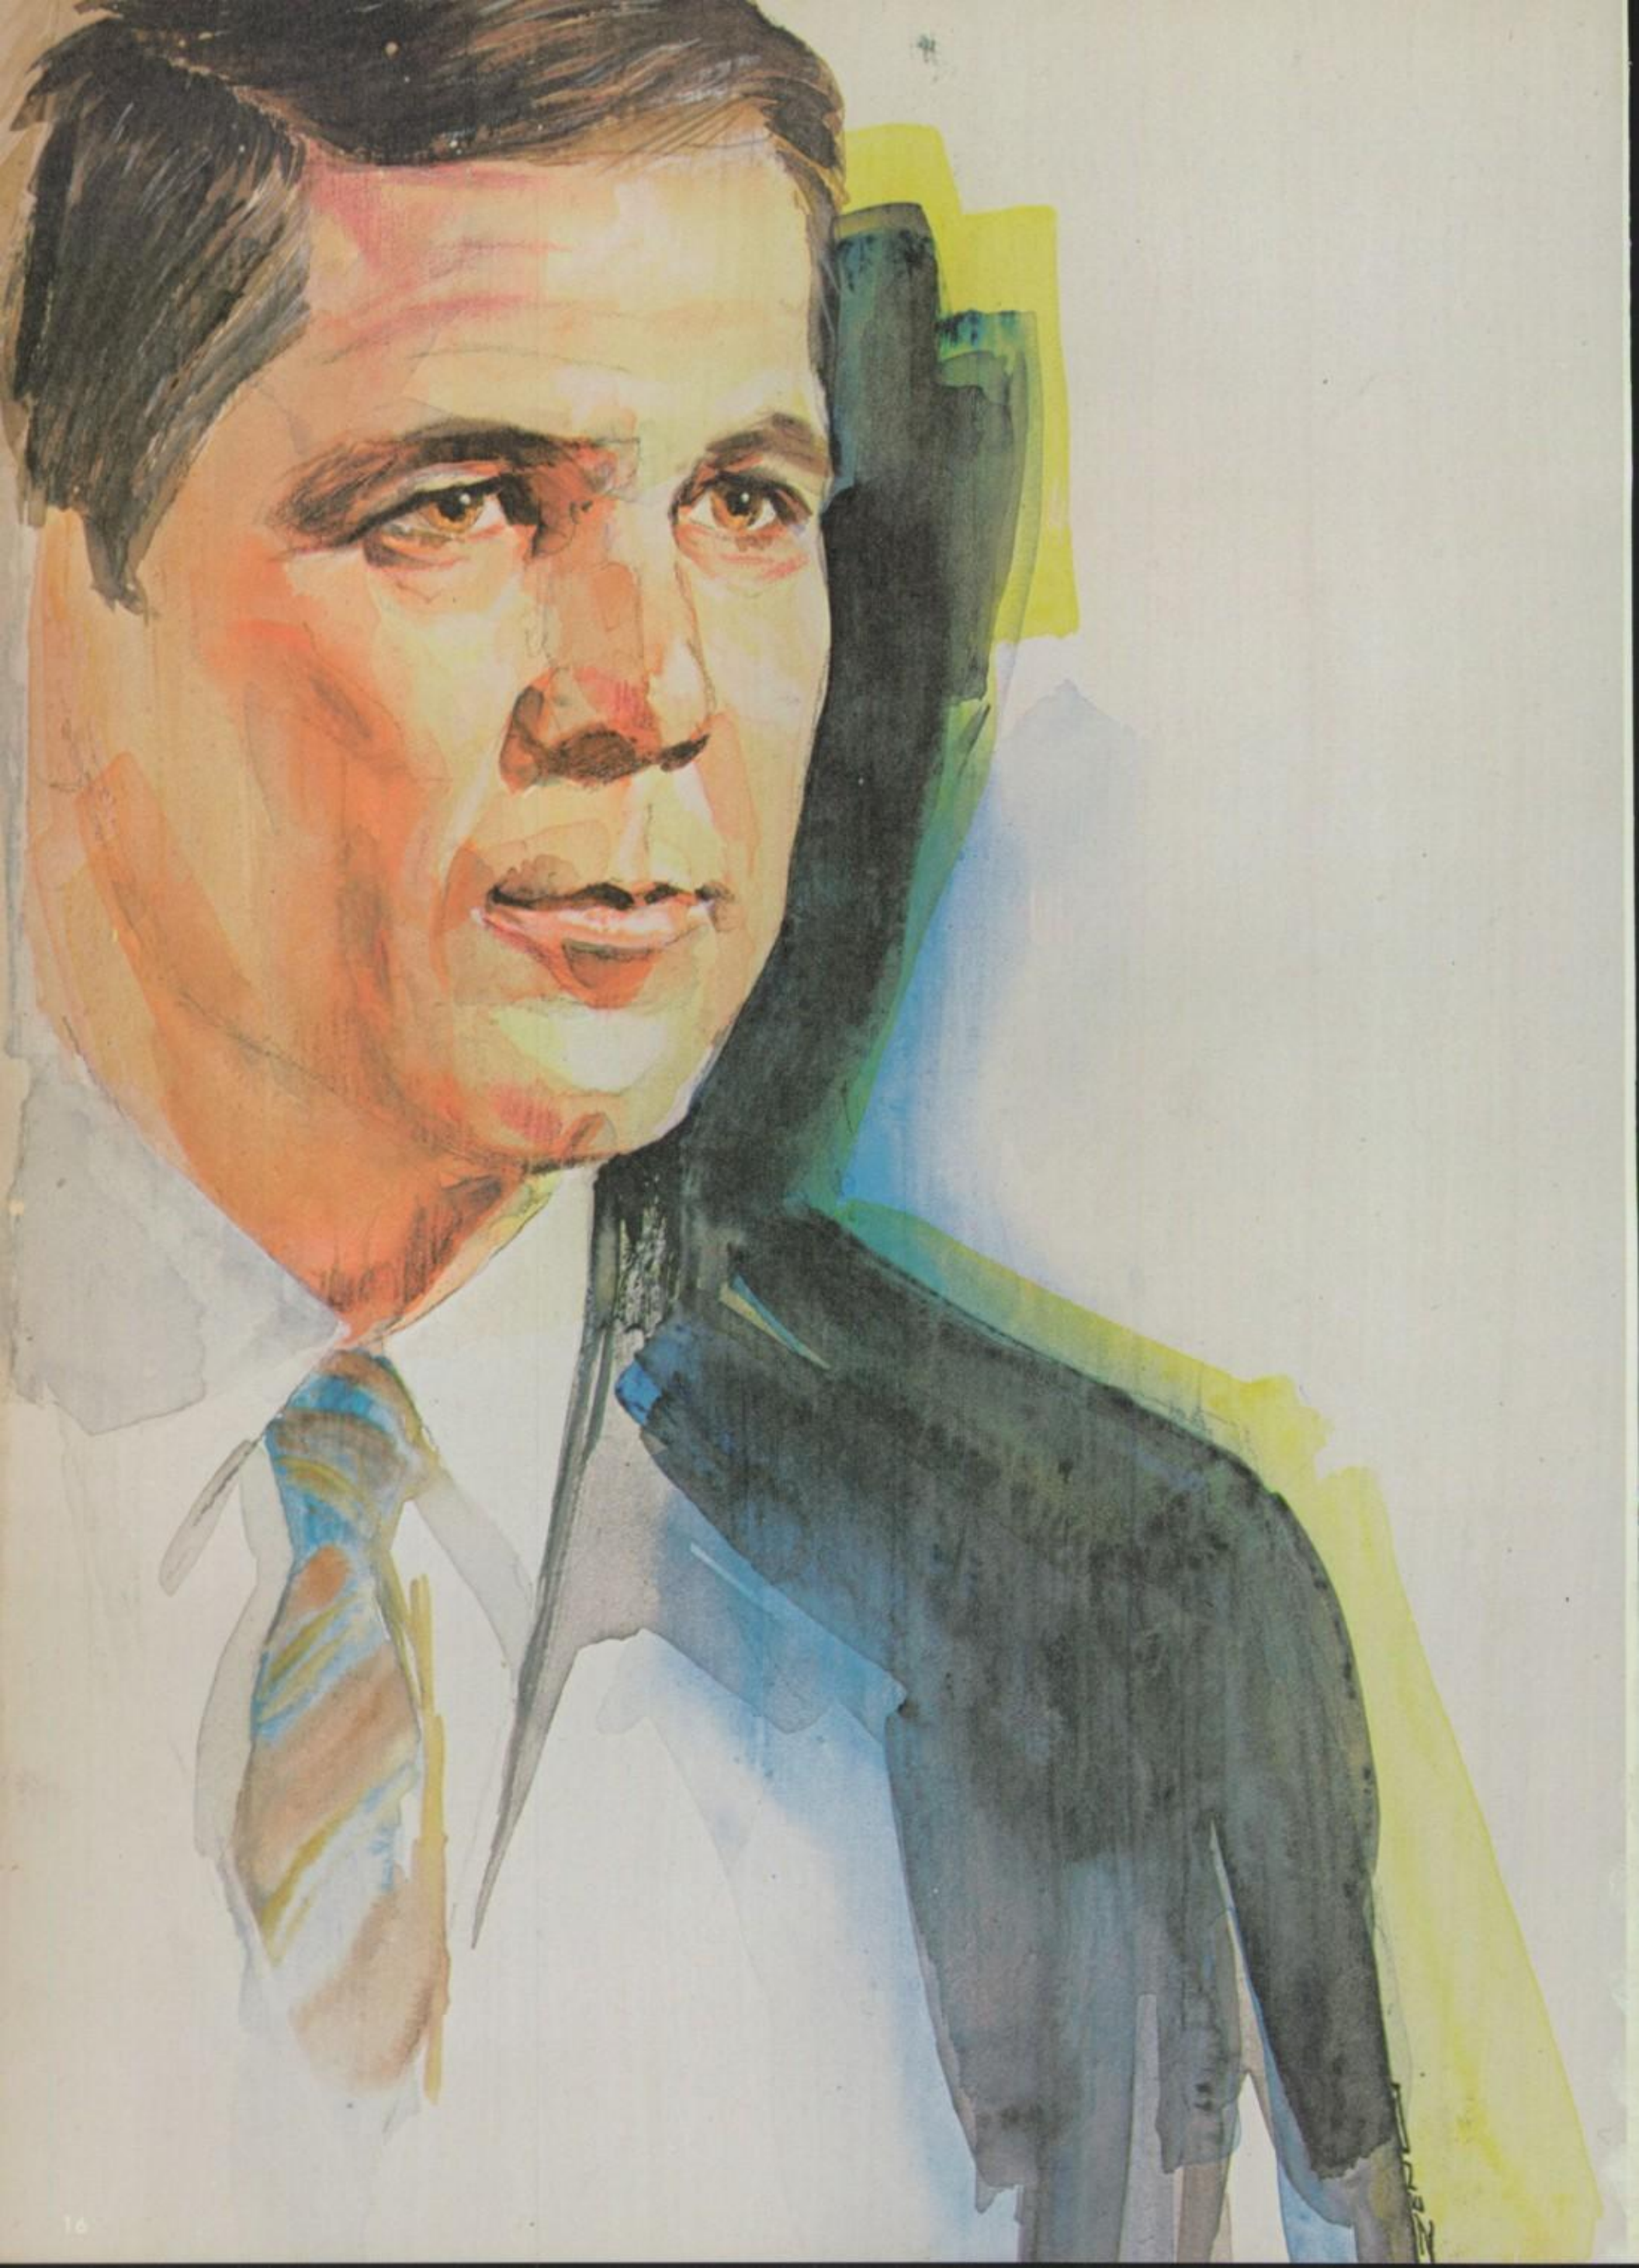

ACADEMICS

ACADEMICS

With mixed emotions, Mr. Williams accepts this token of the faculty's appreciation.

Mr. Williams assists with ring deliveries.

"The outstanding opportunity to work with a faculty such as that at Southern Wayne Senior High comes only once in a lifetime to a few people and never to many."

The faculty of Southern Wayne might in turn express to Mr. Jimmy Williams their own gratitude. He is recognized statewide for "his outstanding administrative abilities as an organizer and an innovator."

It is difficult to determine whether Southern Wayne caught his spirit or he caught the fervor of this modern school. At any rate, throughout his career as teacher, coach, assistant principal, and principal; he has been actively involved with school life. At home in all roles, he is a tribute to all educators who desire to guide youth and to work with them.

His philosophy: "Be firm, fair, and friendly."

FIRM: A definite yes or a positive no, never any maybe-so's. Mr. Williams possesses an intangible ability to weigh the facts about a concern.

FAIR: Black or white, rich or poor; Mr. Williams evaluates students and teachers on the basis of individual merits, not by categories.

FRIENDLY: Down to earth and easy to talk with, his manners make him a friend to his associates — students, teachers, parents, and peer educators.

Mr. Williams has been in close contact with almost all students and teachers. His associate faculty members describe him with his own motto, "firm, fair, friendly." Respect is the collective feeling of all faculty and students. Students have seen him in many moods; but, always "positive thinker, determined, conscientious, fair, powerful, and strong." Always frank, bursting forth in humor or anger, caring, leading the way to education; he has helped others achieve education.

"The resignation of Jimmy Williams, Principal of Southern Wayne Senior High School, . . . is a great loss to the Wayne County School System as well as to the Public School System of North Carolina."

Mr. J. Nelson Kornegay, Mrs. Mary T. Ficken, and Mr. J. G. Alley.

Board members probe the question of closing small school units.

Superintendent Dr. Gerald D. James.

White shirts

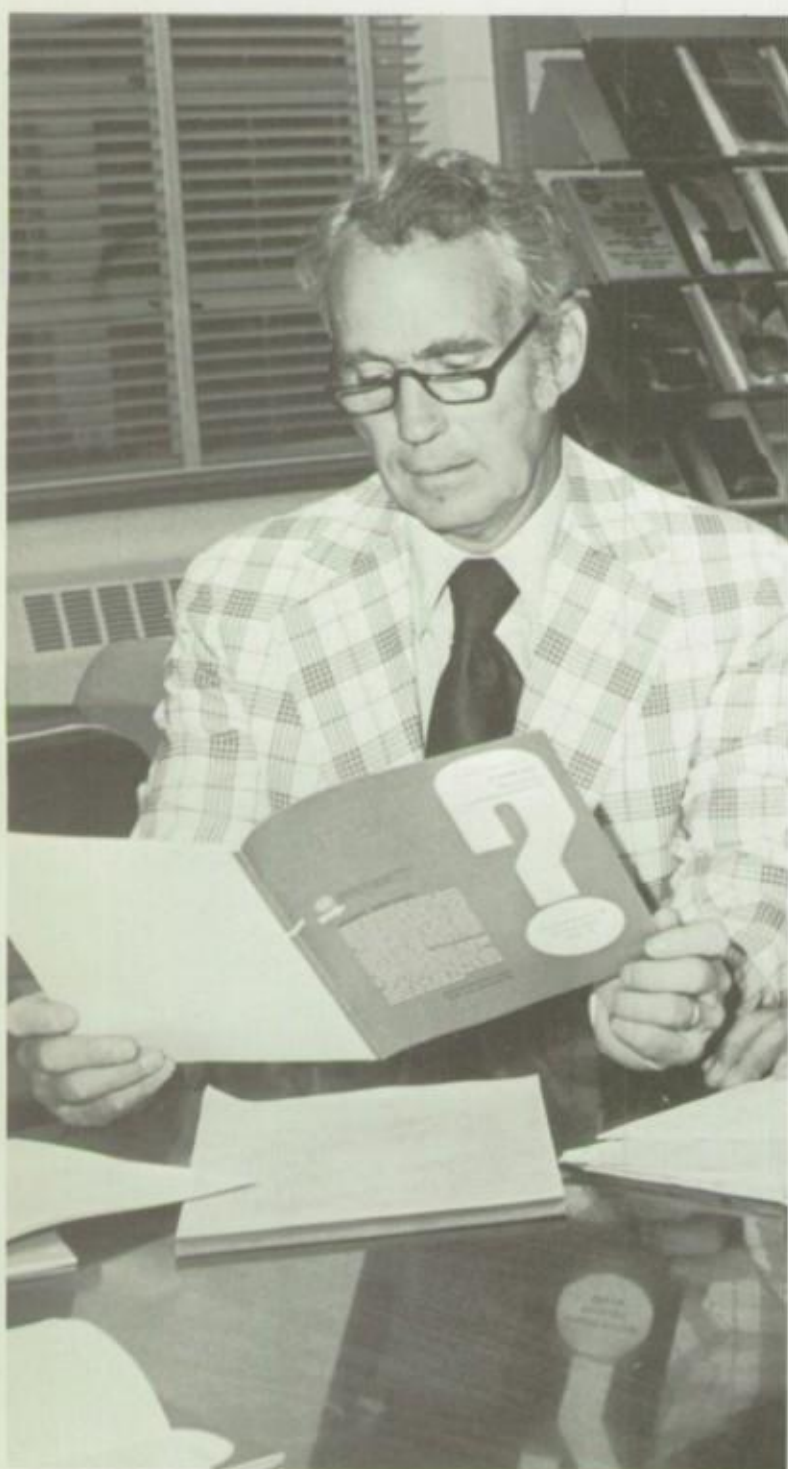

and ties. Business suits and close-cropped hair. An older generation leading its younger generation through the fathoms of education. Decision-makers and policy-makers, the County Board of Education is one of the most devoted groups in the county. Their devotion and interest keeps the schools functioning. Their position of administering sometimes causes a clash of opinion between students and themselves. Susceptible to the blame for all conflicts, their ardent interest is realized nonetheless. Offices are not their sole abode; they make it a point to visit campuses. Among the first to be where discipline is needed, they are also the first to praise.

Six years of service to Wayne County School systems during some of its roughest weather. It requires true stamina to tackle a job such as Superintendent of Wayne County Schools; no matter what decision is made, there will be some disagreement. But, to our school, Dr. Gerald James has been especially essential and serving. His genuine concern and fast action steered us through our own storms.

They

are farmers, doctors, clerks, lawyers, and fathers of course. These outstanding citizens are our Local Advisory Board. An intense interest in youth and a genuine concern are their only motives; their guiding activity is essential to the smooth operation of our school. Students often ignore them; but, they never forget us. When we need them, they are here.

Chairman Dr. R. H. Shackelford.

Principal Jimmy Williams, Mr. Atlas Price, and Mr. Currie Smith.

Mr. Donald Herring and Dr. John Tart, Sr.

Assistant Principal J. D. Evans.

"I want to know everybody's name." He probably does too because J. D. Evans began his new role as Assistant Principal last summer when he worked at Southern Wayne. He seems to always be around talking, joking incessantly, and communicating to the students on a friendly, natural basis. Still, he finds the time to learn who each student is. This parallels his philosophy of giving each student individuality. That is quite a challenge in a school of our domain.

Yet, there is a very serious side to Mr. Evans that is not seen in physics class or in his good-natured teasing. Because of his ability to put others at ease, he has been able to spot problems, unhappiness, and tension. His joviality helps cast a lighter side on any student's problem. Taking care of the many chores of an Assistant Principal: the bus drivers, the skipping students, the classes being dropped; Mr. Evans comes through with a smile. Looking none the worse for the storms, he handles serious situations in his unique style.

Personality plus . . . found in Mr. Evans.

A solemn Mr. Evans.

"Excuse me

for this announcement. This is the bell." There are humorous examples of the voluminous jobs bestowed upon our bookkeeper and secretary. They sell us a stamp, let us use the phone, and point the direction in which Mr. Williams was last seen. But for all these interruptions that are part of school life, our bookkeeper, Mrs. Martha King, efficiently balances the books for our school. It is a tribute to her ability that she can manipulate the large sums of money which pass through a modern complex daily. Willing and able, she can explain to class and club presidents why they cannot obtain their allotment this fiscal year.

Likewise

Miss Katherine Thompson quietly but efficiently performs her many secretarial tasks. In the middle of typing a word, she must answer the phone, page a student, or take a memorandum. With her rests the responsibility of keeping all school business neat, orderly, and accurate. As all good secretaries, she handles responsibility very well.

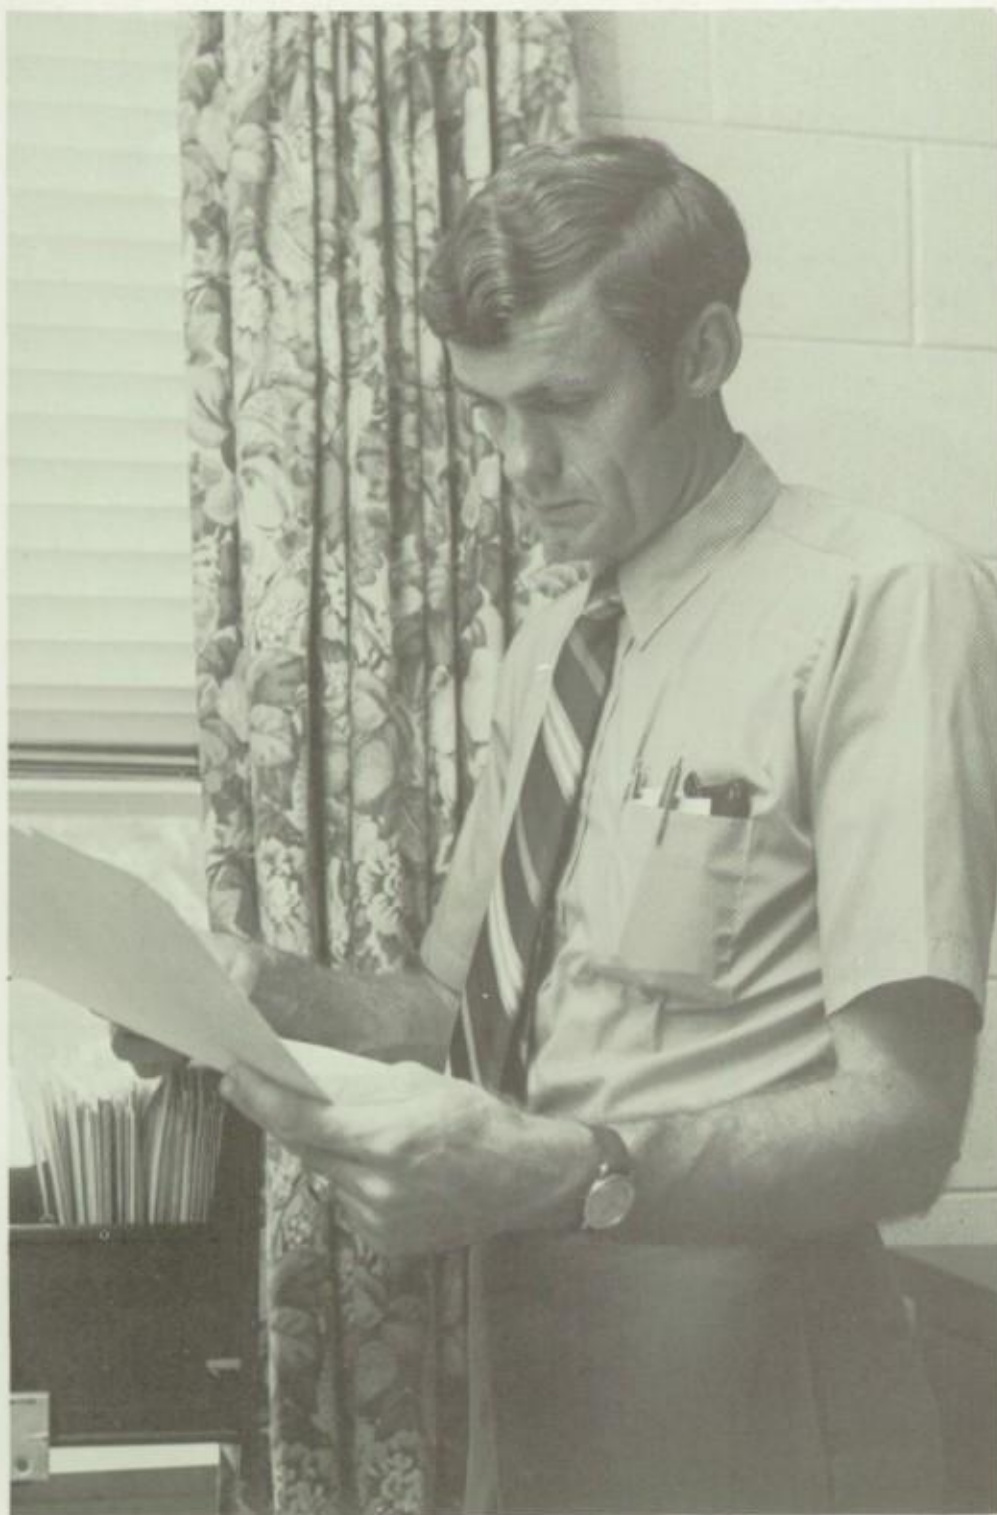

Miss Katherine Thompson, Secretary.

Mrs. Martha King, Bookkeeper.

Mr. Sherman Miles, Attendance Officer.

Mr. Jimmy Adams, Attendance Officer.

White slips

take students the message. Mr. Miles would like a note from home. Mr. Adams wants an explanation for that vacancy sixth period. It is a huge task to keep a record of the attendance of 1200 restless teenagers. Manned by Sherman Miles and Jimmy Adams, the Attendance Office issues a steady stream of blue slips, gathers tardy slips, and investigates skipping. To insure a closed campus during school hours, they maintain late arrivals and early dismissal sheets. It is quite a job to outwit scheming seniors and habitual note forgers!

When

the last bell has rung and only a few students loiter in the halls, the swishing sound of brooms can be heard in every wing. The "Dear Abby" notes are scrubbed from bathroom walls, the gum is removed from the water fountains, and the incinerator yawns with a fiery mouth. Were it not for the trusted custodians, we might all be buried beneath a mountain of gum wrappers. They are the last to lock up after the game; the last ones to leave the social. Our hard-working custodians fight pollution in their own way.

Rotating

the menu around hotdogs, hamburgers, and cinnamon buns; the cafeteria staff strives to please their hungry teens. 180 days of the year, they must provide well-balanced, nutritious meals from state-allotted foods. Their efficiency is to be commended for the infinite conveyor belt of homemade rolls, fried chicken, and jello. When the students race to the cafeteria, our "lunchroom ladies" stand ready.

Amazing

how a community is involved with its school. Red Cross volunteers devote their time and efforts several days each month to be on hand for we students. Well-trained, sympathetic, and involved describe reactions of these worthy ladies. They may not always allow one to "flake out" sixth period; but, they are nice to have around when you turn a backward somersault sideways.

Administrative

and English staffs, with the help of the students and State Supervisor of English Instruction, Mr. Lawrence Tucker, have devoted considerable time and planning to revision of the English curriculum. Beginning in September, 1971, students will be offered a program of non-graded Elective English. Members of the staff have inquired, consulted, and investigated this new concept in teaching English and are convinced of its merit.

Eleventh and twelfth grade students will have the opportunity to elect courses geared to their actual individual needs and interests. Each course will comprise nine weeks of study. Each student must take a minimum of four courses per academic year. Course offerings will include business English, basic grammar and composition, creative writing, research techniques, public speaking, speed reading, drama, dramatics, poetry for enjoyment, mass media, free reading, vocabulary and spelling, black literature, Biblical literature, teenage fiction, the short story, mythology, modern literature, journalism and many others.

This type of program, hopefully, will provide for the students more effective and realistic language learning experiences and generate a more interested and optimistic attitude toward language study.

Hola!

Spanish is fairly new to Southern Wayne. This is only its second year, but already the students are showing much progress, and Spanish is becoming more and more popular.

For the first time, the Spanish department will add a class of third year Spanish next year. A possibility of a trip to a Spanish speaking country is being discussed.

In its initial year, enthusiasm and activity marked the Spanish Club. The highlights for the year included a barbecue supper, a Mexican party, and a four day trip to Tampa, Florida, a city of great Spanish influence.

Hasta luego amigos!

Broadening

the student's concepts of the outside world through the study of foreign languages, countries, and peoples is our hope. Only through understanding the language of another people can we truly understand their culture. The better we understand other countries, the better we can build mutual trust and cooperation among nations.

Towards the end of the first year, the student will have acquired a basic active vocabulary. He will understand simple elementary sentences, will be able to express himself in simple French, and will be able to read easy French. Grammar is stressed in French II. There is a review of the basic skills acquired in French I and II in French III. On this level, more emphasis is placed on reading and writing. The student should be able to converse more fluently on topics that are a part of his daily life.

and 711 business students hustle around the 200 wing daily preparing themselves for modern trends in Business and Office Education.

Extensive training is offered through the following business courses: Business Math and Consumer Math, Typewriting I and II, Shorthand I and II, Bookkeeping I and II, Personal Typewriting, Notehand, and Preparatory and Cooperative Office Practice. Our school has the only Cooperative Office Practice class in Wayne County. Advanced students acquire skills in operating various business machines including the following: ten-key and full-key add list, printing and rotary calculators, the spirit duplicator, the mimeograph machine, 3M-107 copier, 3M Thermofax copier, Norelco transcriber, together with manual and electric typewriters — both IBM and Royal brands. Six business students are working part-time at MCS Cherry & Son Agency and the Mt. Olive Pickle Plant in Mt. Olive, the Wayne County Public Schools Administrative Office, and Joseph H. Davis, Attorney-at-Law, in Goldsboro.

Through participation in FBLA, business students receive additional leadership training.

Enthusiasm

made up for a membership deficiency in this year's band. Wherever their neat uniforms were spotted, "The Saints Go Marching In" was sure to follow. Drum Major, Billy Joe Holliday, kept the marching Saints in rigid form at all ball games. Frost-bitten majorettes were an added attraction especially when they twirled fired batons. Several tours were made in addition to football game performances. Our band proved a spirit-lifter even when umbrellas were pushed up.

Girls

walking the halls in blue pinafores and white blouses, or wearing white uniforms, or hearing the sound of power machines in the 400 wing have raised questions in the minds of fellow students this year. The answers, of course, are that Health and Management Services, Food Services, and Clothing and Home Furnishings Services have become a vital part of the ever expanding vocational home economics program.

The general attitude that Home Economics is only cooking and sewing has long been a misconception. The most recent change in our curriculum is the addition of occupational courses. Meeting the needs of the students is the main reason for this change. A larger percentage of young people marry at an earlier age in our society today, so they undertake the triple roles of student, wage earner, and parent.

Occupational courses meet the needs of the students by providing skills for certain job opportunities. This type of curriculum is designed for juniors and seniors so they can put their skills into practice immediately upon graduation.

Southern Wayne has expanded the basic program of Home Economics I and II to include advanced semester courses in child care, foods, clothing, and interpersonal relations. Participation in these provides a strong foundation for the occupational training programs.

Agriculture department is firmly committed to provide the environment that will enable the individual students to grasp their interest, to nurture and develop their potential fully.

By implementing the art of group and individual instruction in the areas of plant, animal, and mechanical sciences, we find tremendous tools of motivation in the Future Farmers of America and on-the-job training.

To evaluate classroom instruction and to further justify our position of learning by doing, we submit various areas of individual and group participation in State Competition and on-the-job training.

Some of these jobs include dairy, swine, and poultry breeding and feeding, agriculture business, forestry, sawmill and logging, general farming, bakery, machinery and equipment, and agriculture sales and service.

We anticipate continued success in the areas of Vocational Training.

Potential

of being the most exciting discipline in education lies in history. New approaches, new societies, and new discoveries have necessitated re-evaluations in the study of history. Re-evaluations indicated a need for change in social studies' thinking and methodology. History must be approached from the view that past historical events are related to the present philosophy and way of life. In order that it might be placed within proper perspective in the total school program, a new Social Studies Curriculum is being initiated. Our program is one of updated content and methodology, and one that is conducive to rational inquiry and critical examination of the social issues of our time. The students will be involved to a much greater extent than before through new approaches such as simulations, seminars, group activities and independent study.

The American Studies units will be planned so that the student may have an understanding of the contemporary American scene.

This program through content and methodology will maximize the probability that students will be equipped, both intellectually and attitudinally, to participate as effective citizens on all levels of an increasingly complex society.

Highest

enrollment was experienced by the Aerospace Education program during this academic year as 127 young men enrolled. Many deserving cadets were given opportunities to practice leadership with new squad and flight leaders assuming responsibility each six weeks. Squadron leadership was also divided between two groups of Senior Cadets. Each provided leadership for a semester. New blue uniforms helped make the unit sharp and up to date. Monthly squadron meetings broadened the experience of the squadron leaders and provided a period for drill competition between flights. Each flight selected a mascot; flags were designed to display the flight colors and to improve loyalty. Ribbons were added to the uniforms to reflect longevity in the course.

The Cadets carried out money-making projects for group activities. Ten seniors attended a dining-in as guests of East Carolina University AFROTC. Orientation flights were experienced by junior and senior members of the Squadron. Second year Cadets had an opportunity to put the mechanics of flying into practice in the F-4 simulator. While studying Air Force bases, first year flights made a tour of Seymour Johnson Air Force Base. The reality of the Vietnam conflict was experienced by second and third year Cadets during a visit to the "Green Beret" unit at Ft. Bragg. Scale model airplanes and flying rockets highlighted projects completed by Cadets. An honorary society is in the process of formation to recognize individuals and to enhance the program.

The Cadets and Supervisory Staff look forward to increased student interest and an even more active program in coming years.

Seven craftsmen,

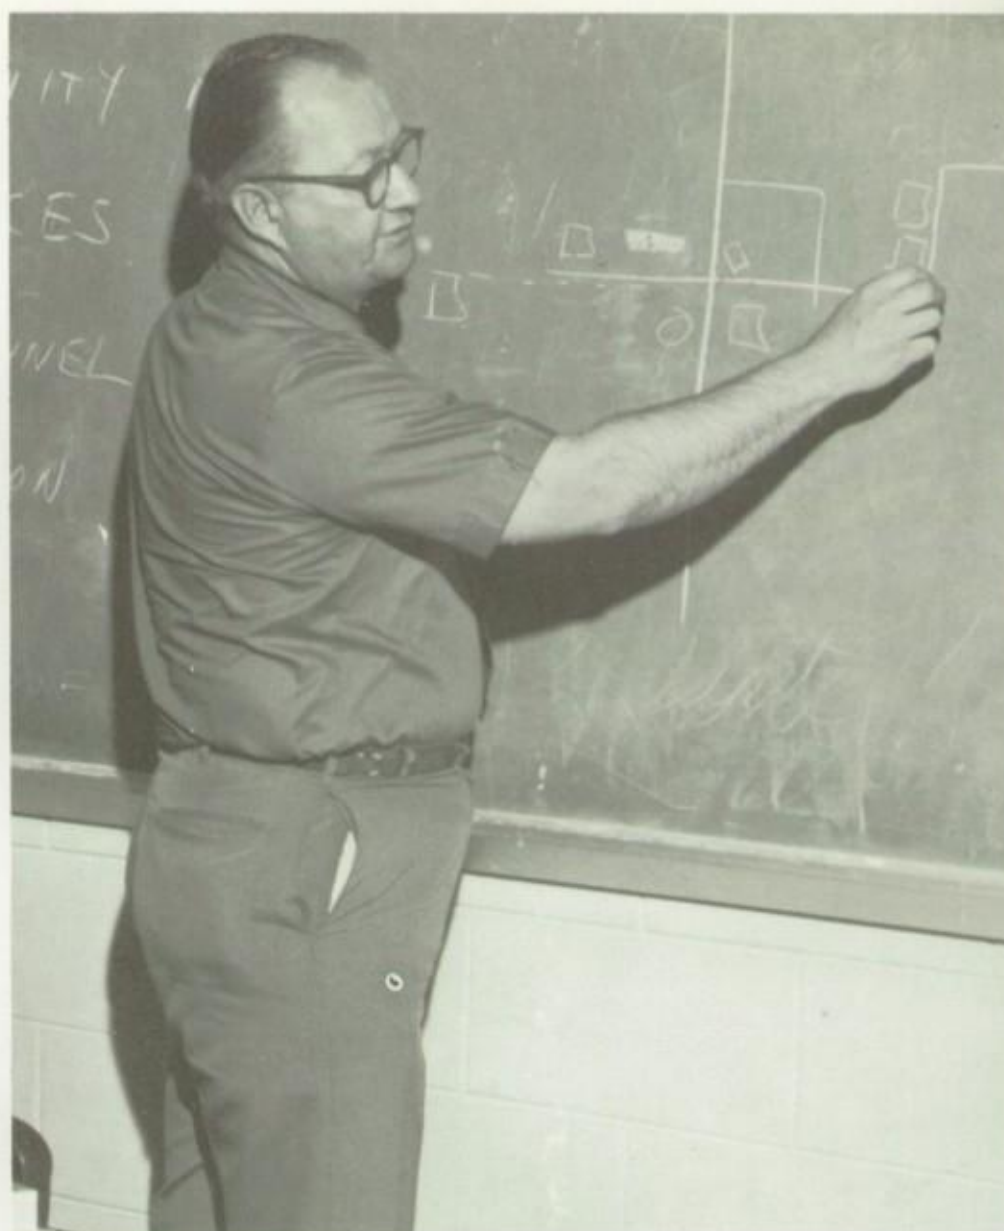

each a skilled professional in his own field, compose the staff of Trades and Industrial Education at Southern Wayne High. Being a vital branch of Occupational Education, the primary objective is to prepare youth for the world of work through the development of knowledge, skills, and attitudes.

The offerings at Southern Wayne include, in the sophomore year, Basic Technical Drafting, Small Gas Engines, Basic Masonry, Basic Carpentry, and Basic Electric/Electronics. This offers the students an opportunity to engage in one or more of the basic occupational programs leading to a full occupational course in the junior year.

On the junior level, students can enroll in full occupational courses of drafting, carpentry, masonry, electric/electronics, and internal combustion engines. In addition, students are placed in work-study stations in occupations other than those offered at the high school through the Industrial Cooperative training program.

The courses at the senior level are advanced, which build upon the fundamentals learned previously.

compose the Special Education department. In one area, the students are involved in regular special education classes. It is the objective in this area to relate to the students basic learnings such as: social competencies, communication skills, and number concepts. Also, in this area, the students begin to train in some areas vocationally.

Once a student has been fully trained in the first area and has acquired the necessary skills, he then moves into the second phase of the program. During this phase, the student is scheduled into regular vocational classes in areas that are suited to his wants, needs, and aptitude. The main objective of this phase is to train the student for the world of work upon graduation. With this objective in mind, each student possible is placed at an on-the-job training station during his junior or senior year depending upon the individual and the available placement stations. We have placed many of our students this year. Our ultimate goal is to place every student. It is our belief that this training is a necessary tool in totally educating the individual at this level.

Distinction

of being the first of two schools in Eastern North Carolina to serve as a Demonstration Library under ESEA Title II for the years 1967-1969 was bestowed upon the library at Southern Wayne High School. This program made it possible for the library at Southern Wayne High School to receive a special supplemental allotment for the acquisition of a wide variety of library materials to enrich the existing library resources.

It has been the desire of the library staff to continue this enrichment program in all areas of the curriculum with both books and audio visual materials. These materials are made available to both students and teachers alike through easy accessibility and immediate availability.

Keeping teachers aware of new books and materials; placing books on "reserve"; helping students locate reference materials; assisting in book selections; teaching library lessons of all kinds — these are but a few of the activities of the Library department.

It is hoped that the library program will continue to expand until it becomes an all encompassing part of the entire school curriculum.

"Science

is what the world is, earth and water,
And what its seasons do. And what space fountained it.

It is fangs hidden underground. It is dawn's slow salvo.

It is in the closed retort. And it is not yet."

We believe each student should be taught to think creatively, acquire a problem-solving attitude, and have an appreciation of science. Each student should learn to see and feel the effects of science on his daily life. We endeavor to provide those students that will continue their science education with the proper background in the areas of science that they wish to continue studying.

Next year, in addition to the basic science courses offered in the past, we are creating a Science Interest course. In this course, we will choose and investigate a different branch of science each quarter — the one which the students choose and are more interested in.

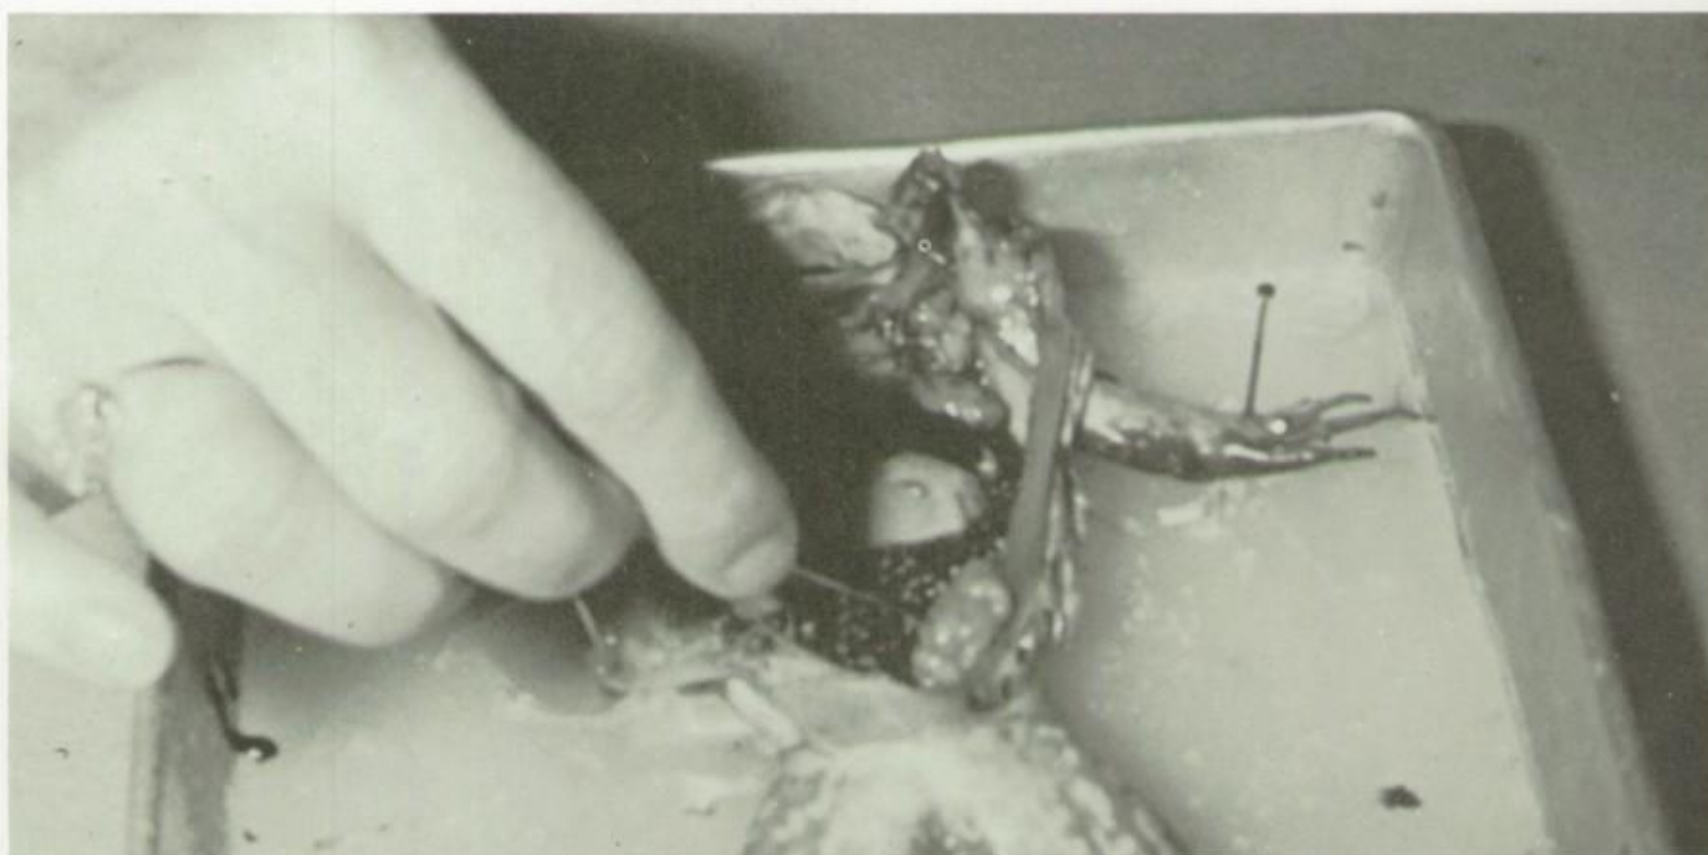

We feel that our Science Club has been an asset to the department. The very successful science fair that we have sponsored each year has enabled the students to choose and investigate topics of interest to them.

We feel that Science instruction makes unique contributions to the general education of all pupils.

Primary

objectives of the Guidance department this year have been to help the students make satisfactory academic, vocational, and personal adjustments; and to assist them in growth toward maximum effectiveness and self-direction.

Many of these goals can be partially reached through group activities. Representatives from colleges, technical schools, industry, and the military services have attempted to give students a clear understanding of available options and opportunities. Presentations by the counselors have aimed at providing students with information about ways to apply to colleges, find employment and career information, and evaluate their own abilities. Group and individual testing has been done with follow-up counseling to provide students some tools for self-assessment.

By far the most important facet of the guidance program, however, has been the provision of individual counseling in an atmosphere of complete confidentiality for anyone who needs it. The counselor's office has been established as a place where one can talk through a situation, look closely at alternative choices, and set up a program of action once he has reached a decision.

Since guidance is a continuing developmental process, the counselors envision no dramatic changes in procedures next year. It is expected that more emphasis will be placed on group work, vocational counseling, work with potential drop-outs, and orientation of new students. It is also hoped that a greater involvement of classroom teachers in guidance activities can be achieved.

A phase of education, Physical Education strives to promote through total body activity the health and general welfare of all students and to guide them in being more effective individuals physically, mentally, and socially.

Through the use of individual and dual activities, team games, conditioning activities, rhythms, recreational activities, and testing for fitness as well as skill, Physical Education strives toward appreciation of sport as well as developing leadership abilities.

The team sports program offers an opportunity for meeting the immediate developmental physical needs of students through participation in activities demanding speed, strength, skill, and endurance; and an opportunity to enjoy relaxation and wholesome fatigue accompanying such activities. Under wise guidance, team games may serve as one of the best laboratories where students may develop socially desirable traits and characteristics.

Individual and dual sports are offered to provide an opportunity for students to develop skills and interests which will encourage active participation in physical recreation during leisure time. These activities offer great carry-over value for the individual or small group in which skill is easily measured by the participant.

No school

has ever functioned properly without the essential aid of faculty leaders. These are the teachers who are class advisors, club advisors, and officers in local, district, and state educational organizations. Students see them paint-smeared and be-decked in jeans while working on the Jr.-Sr. Somehow, they produce the much-needed but missing money for Homecoming floats or club events. Most of these same school-active teachers are active in educational demands on a broader scale. They care enough to actually do rather than think; they take action through the honored positions they hold in our state's educational system.

SPORTS

SPORTS

Exciting

was the show as Jimmy Reaves became head coach. The first offensive play under the helm of Coach Reaves was a touchdown. Saints defeated Hobbs, 21-0, in that game. Next was Southern Nash. The Firebirds were burnt 47-0 in an ominous display of SW offense.

Stubborn

C. B. Aycock refused to yield to the Saint onslaught. Falcons finally succumbed, 13-12, as the Southern Wayne Homecoming festivities neared their end.

Alan Jackson speeds down field.

Dodging defenders, Robert Bizzell picks up yardage.

Coach Reaves glares at a Saint miscue.

Trainer Pete Kornegay assists QB Roy Whitfield.

First Row: R. Gillentine, R. Bizzell, A. Jackson, J. Broadie, G. Meacham, R. Graham, J. Dickson, R. Kuretsch, M. Wilson, and D. Olliver. Second Row: Assistant Coach Clark Dail, K. Frederick, L. Royall, J. Davis, S. Kilpatrick, N. Brinson, J. Williams, C. Smith, G. Cox, C. Fox, and Head Coach Jimmy Reaves. Third Row: Assistant Coach Doyle Whitfield, B. Wilkins, C. Marks, R. Whitfield, A. Rawls, B. Johnson, R. Peterson, L. Stanford, J. Cox, J. Bennett, B. Jones, and Assistant Coach Sherman Miles.

A crucial play is viewed from the sidelines.

Messy

was the field, demoralizing was the score of the Farmville game. Disorganization plagued the Saints in the muck. Red Devils showed good poise in the sludge and battered SW 28-7.

Offense

reeled off 27 or more points five times during season. Highlight of the year was the season finale at Wallace-Rose Hill. Bulldogs were soundly whipped 64-8, the most points ever scored by a Southern Wayne team.

Charlie Marks; speed personified.

Injury means disgust to all.

Coach Dail calls for reinforcements.

Boyzell Johnson heads for paydirt.

A North Lenoir player lunges for speedy Dennis Stringfield.

A grim Coach Miles.

Hard-luck

defeats marred the Baby Saints 5-3 record. Team effort, quickness, brawn and desire enabled winning season. The agile mind of QB Billy Vernon, slashing running by FB Phillip Platt, superb line play and timely substitutions combined to trouble opponents.

Billy Vernon confers with Coach Doyle Whitfield during a time-out.

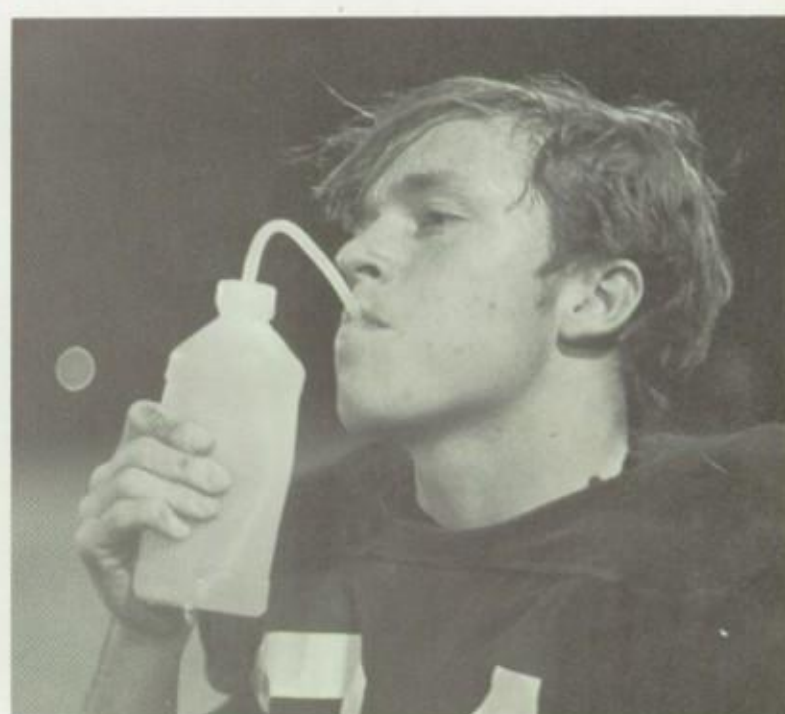

Bruce Sasser fights for yardage against Farmville.

Crushing

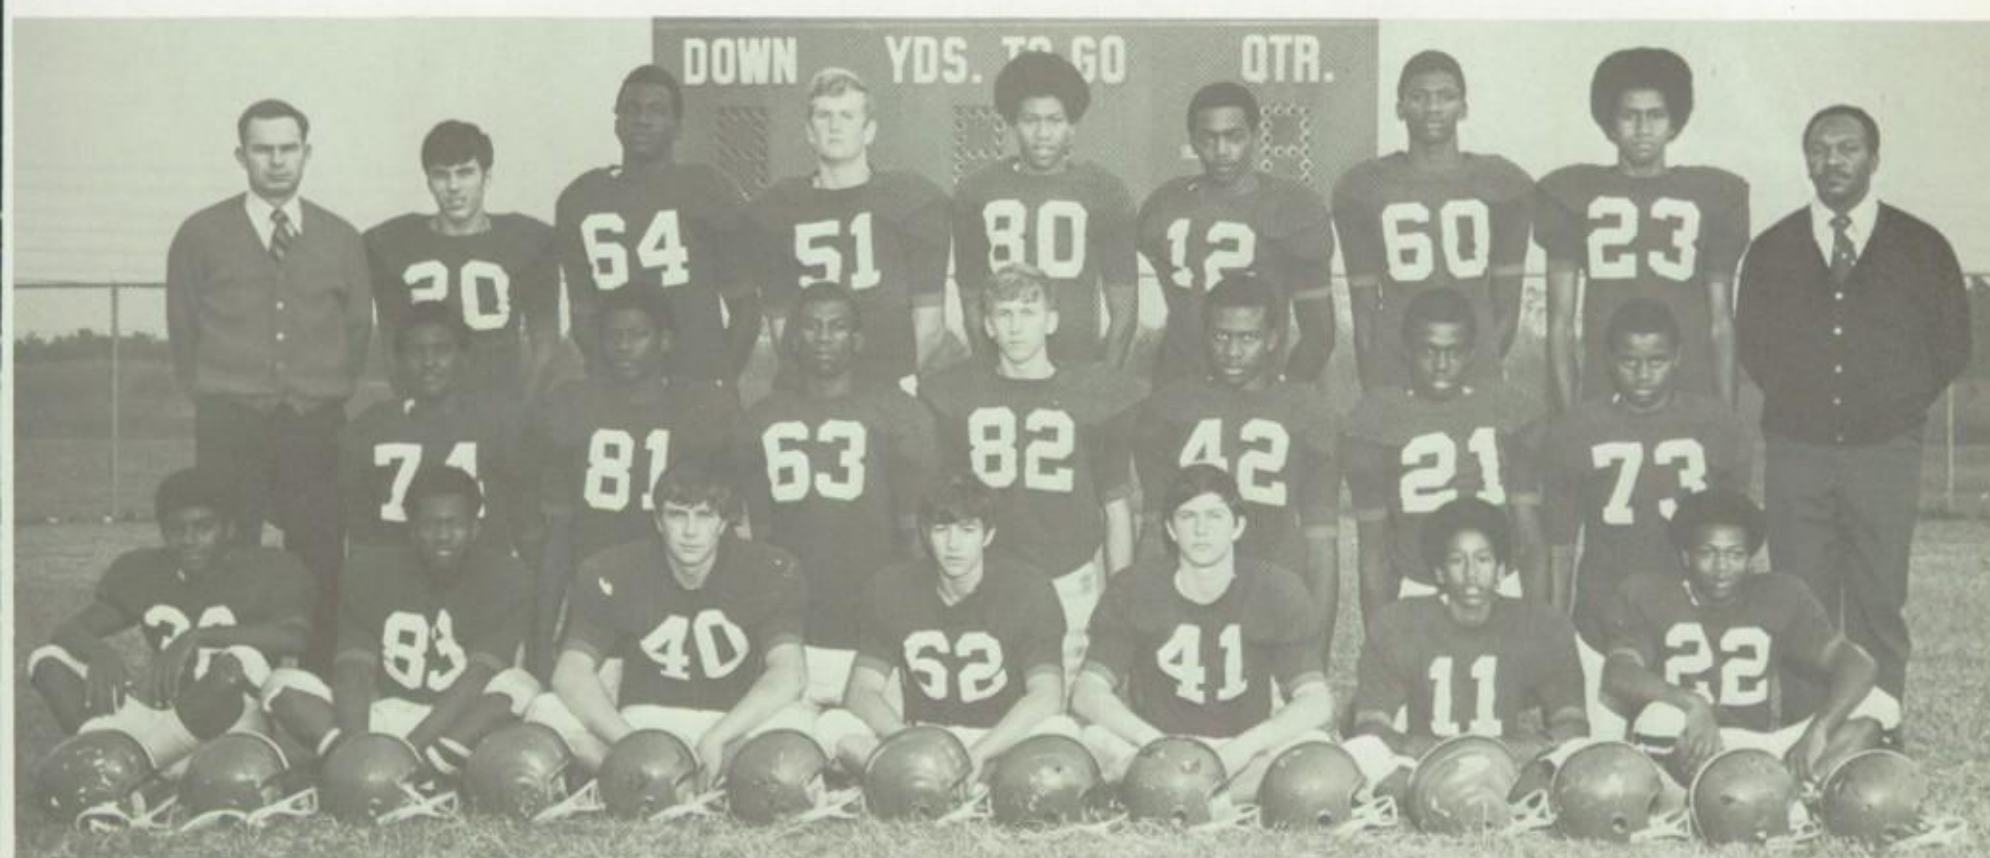

James Kenan by a score of 19-0 displayed Baby Saint rushing prowess and defense. Beat North Pitt, North Lenoir, and Eastern Wayne in succession, by scores of 20-8, 20-10 and 14-8. Lost heartbreakers to Southern Nash (8-2), Northern Nash (22-6) and Farmville (14-0).

Baby Saints get a quick, half-time pep talk.

Thad Ficken takes a breather.

First Row: T. Royall, A. Lofton, M. Francis, B. Beasley, M. Wilson, O. Knock, and D. Stringfield. Second Row: T. Carmichael, G. Carlton, D. Robinson, J. Parker, P. Platt, T. Martin, and J. Broadhurst. Third Row: Coach Doyle Whitfield, F. Henderson, G. Cobb, G. Mozingo, M. Knock, S. Bennett, L. Pearsall, M. Knock, and Assistant Coach Sherman Miles.

Young

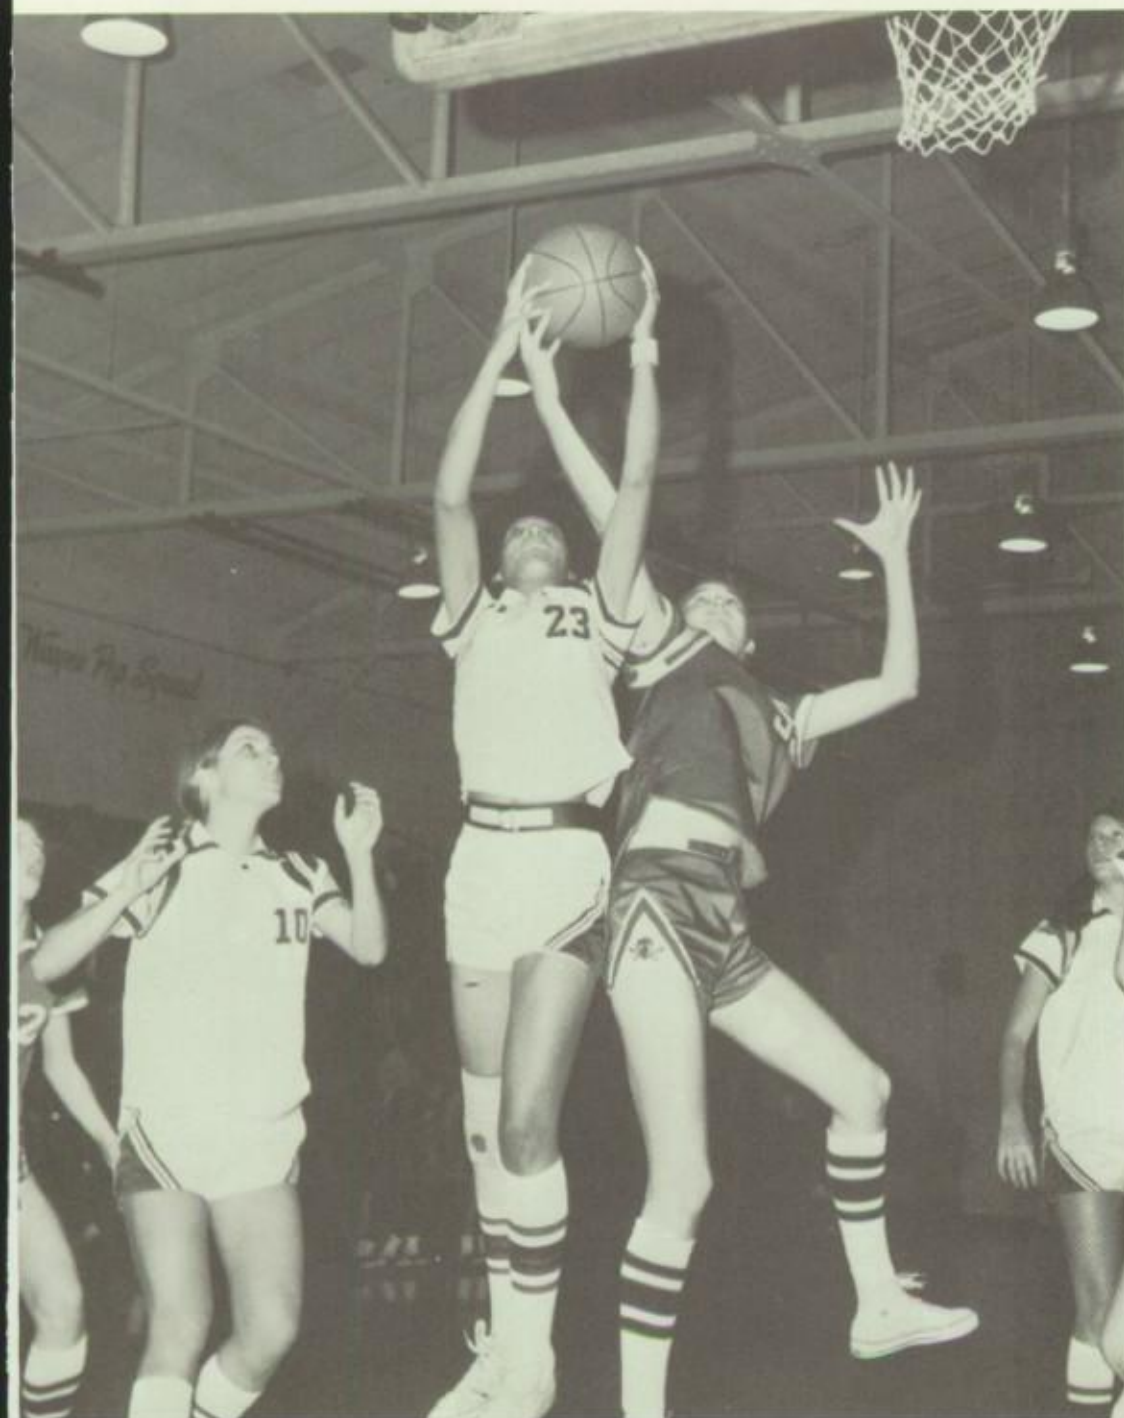

team showed poise, desire and promise. Demonstrated that hard efforts and long hours of practice pay off. Jumped from last place finish last season, to third place this year. Team owned 10-9 overall record. Look forward to a better season next year. Entire team returning as there were no seniors this year.

Coach Henry cheers her girls on.

Kneeling: E. Davis. Standing: K. Hill, S. Smith, D. Williams, D. Hollowell, T. Bryan, S. Raynor, P. Brogden, C. Warren, and J. Bryan.

Outstanding

players filled the SW bench as well as the lineup. Most improved Terry Bryan, Pat Brogden, Jaxie Bryan and Kathy Hill led the scoring. Most valuable Sophia Raynor and Debbie Hollowell strengthened the team on the boards. Eunice Davis, Connie Warren and Susie Smith were top reserves.

Sophia Raynor goes high for a rebound.

Debbie Hollowell and Eunice Davis watch Terry Bryan fight for the ball.

Team members listen to Coach Henry during a time-out.

Debbie Hollowell maneuvers for a quick shot.

Jaxie Bryan eyes the basket for a free-throw.

Kathy Hill attempts another two-pointer.

Beat

everyone in conference, except Farmville, once. Lost to conference runner-up Northern Nash, 39-31, in conference tournament. Beat Eastern Wayne in playoff for open District Tourney berth, 27-20. South Lenoir eliminated the locals in the first round of the playoffs.

Three

All Conference players on team. One fourth of total All Conference team. The honored Lady Saints were: Jaxie Bryan, Sophia Raynor, and Kathy Hill.

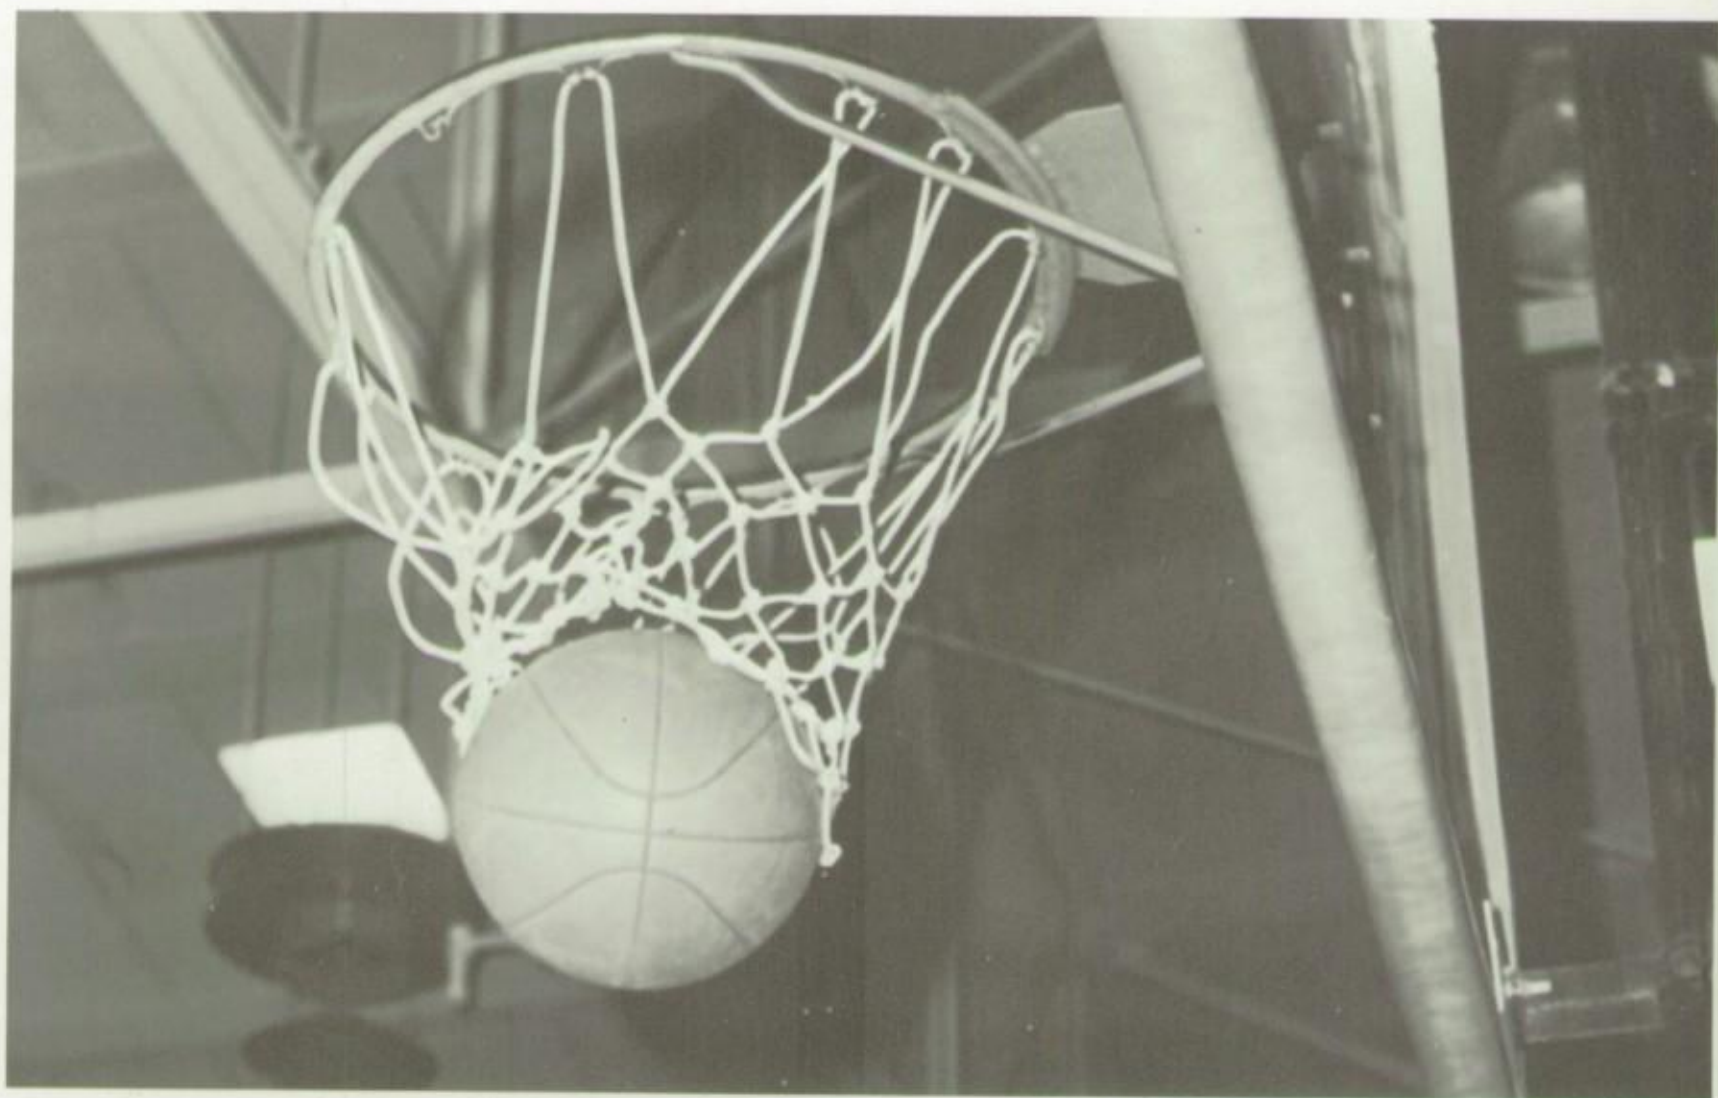

Diane Williams shoots over the outstretched arm of an opponent.

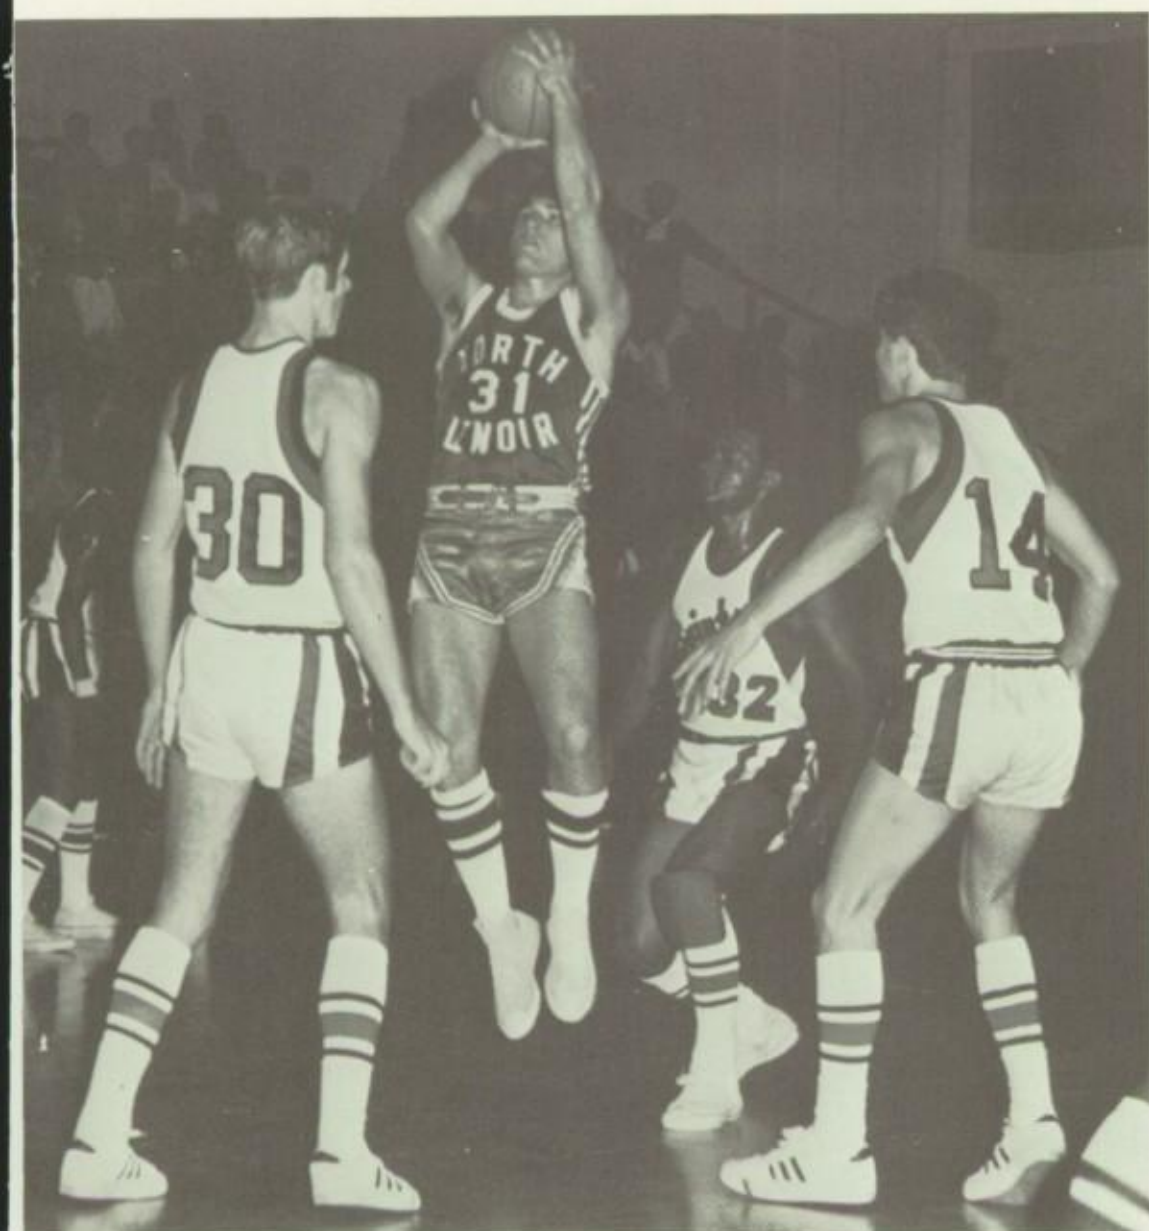

An enthusiastic Saint crowd.

Coach Jimmy Adams.

Two needed points.

Disappointing

is the word for the 1970-71 Varsity Basketball season. Saints mustered only a 4-16 record out of a quite disappointing year. Several close losses including a 55-54 Eastern Plains tournament loss to conference winner, North Lenoir, in the final seconds.

The bench played important role throughout the season, as the lineups varied from game to game. Ricky Herring, Alan Jackson and Andy Rawls provided valuable punch to back up the regulars.

A North Lenoir player catches Preston Parker and Frankie Harrell off-guard.

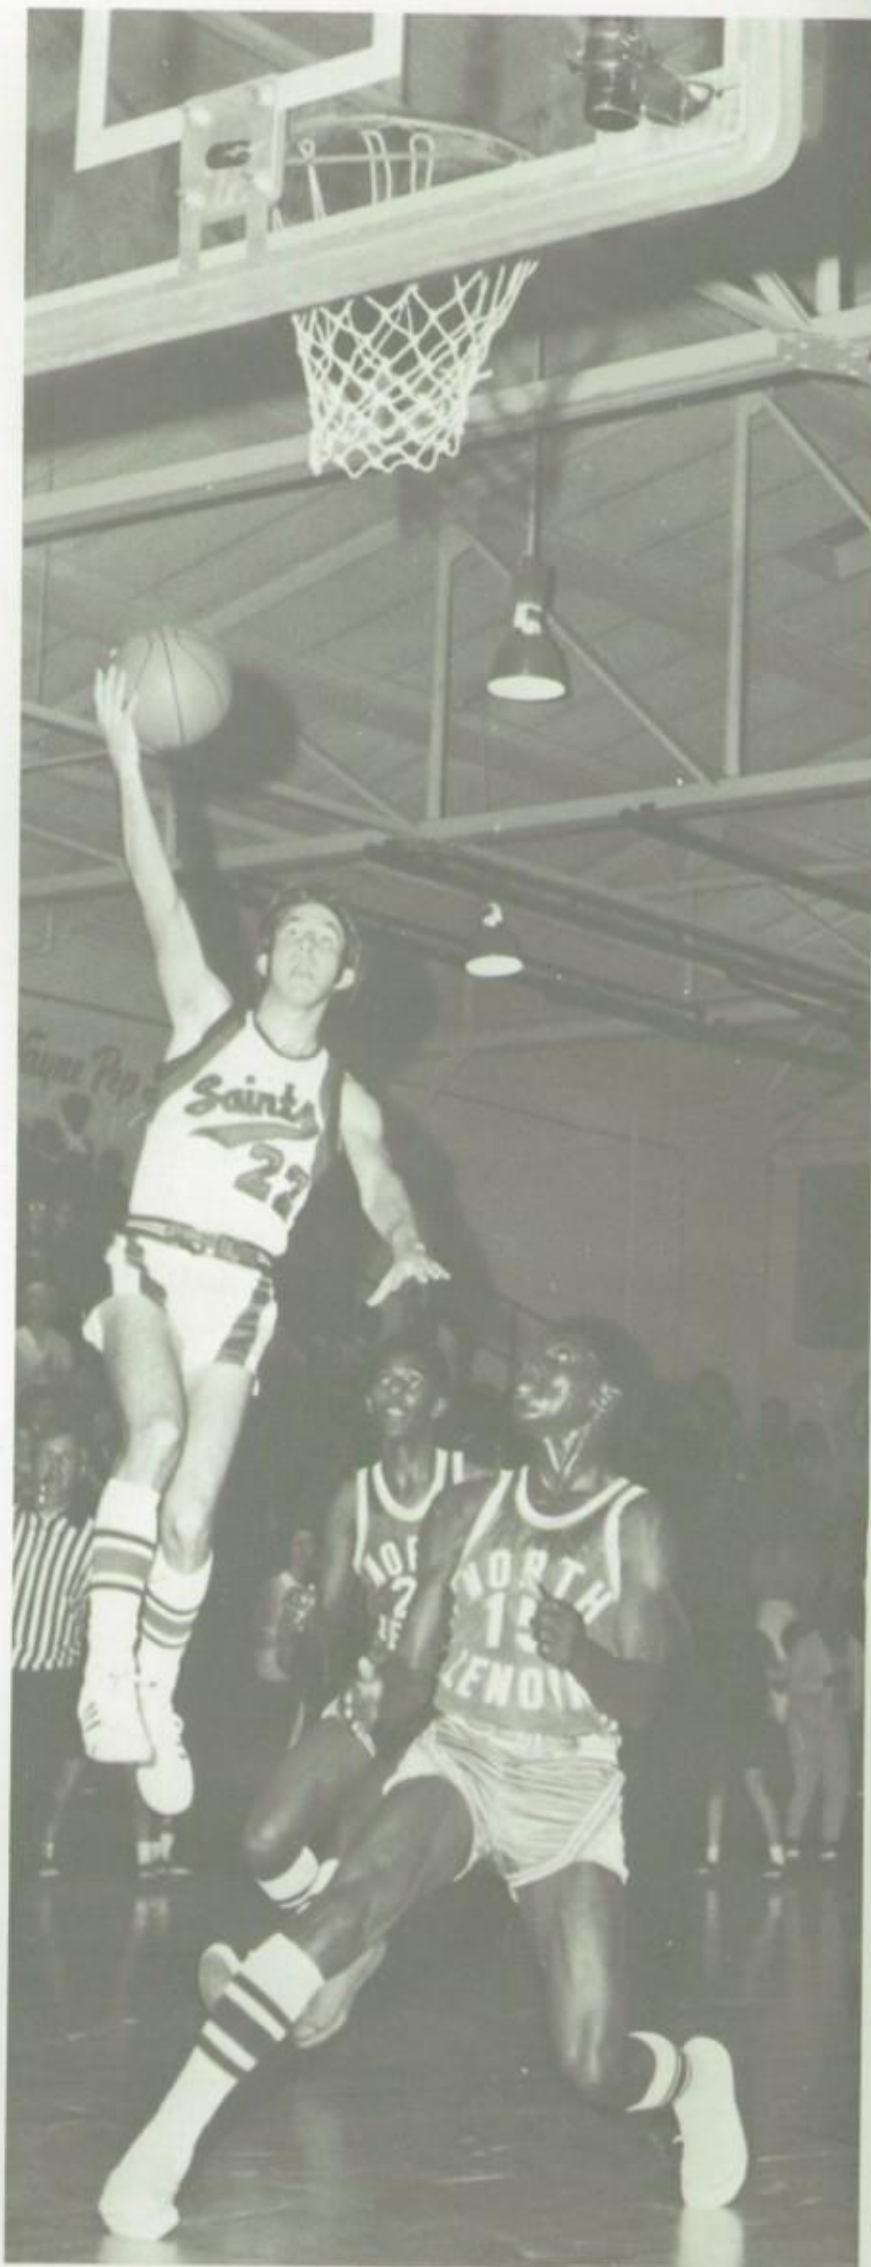

Kneeling: L. Carlton, A. Jackson, and D. Olliver. Standing: Coach Jimmy Adams, E. Vann, S. Marshall, A. Rawls, J. Bass, D. Bryan, A. Wooten, B. Johnson, P. Parker, R. Herring, F. Harrell, and C. Marks.

Coach Adams gives Alan Jackson some last-minute instructions.

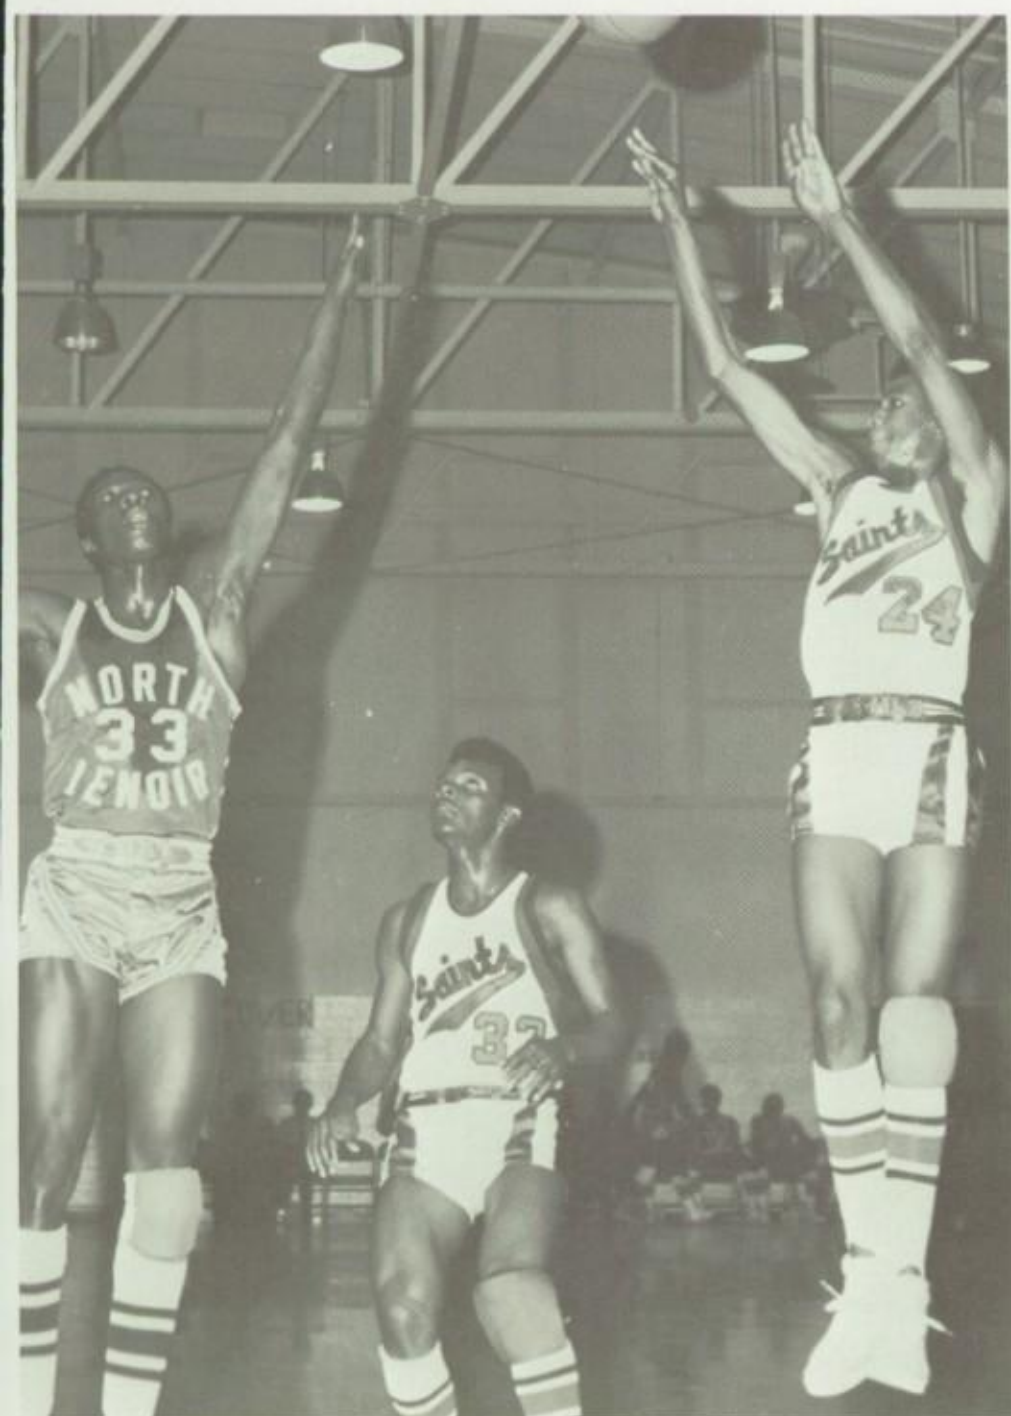

Andy Rawls and Frankie Harrell stretch for a rebound.

Charlie Marks leaps high to score.

A Greene Central player stops Charlie Marks' drive.

Jerry Bass shoots a quick jumper.

Frankie Harrell struggles for the ball.

Shooting

was the team weakness, although All Conference Preston Parker was second in individual scoring. MVP Parker led the team with an 18.2 average. Jerry Bass and Charlie Marks provided the team with additional punch. Angelo Wooten and Frankie Harrell strengthened the team on the boards.

Quick start

but very weak finish resulted in Baby Saints' 5-14 record. Coach Jasper Evans changed the lineups continuously, to come up with a winning combination. Won three out of their first four. They got in a rut and lost nine in a row. Ended their skid and the season with a 59-40 victory over Charles B. Aycock. Buddy West, Leonard Pearsall and Earthell Lofton led the team in season scoring.

Mark Lownes pulls down another rebound.

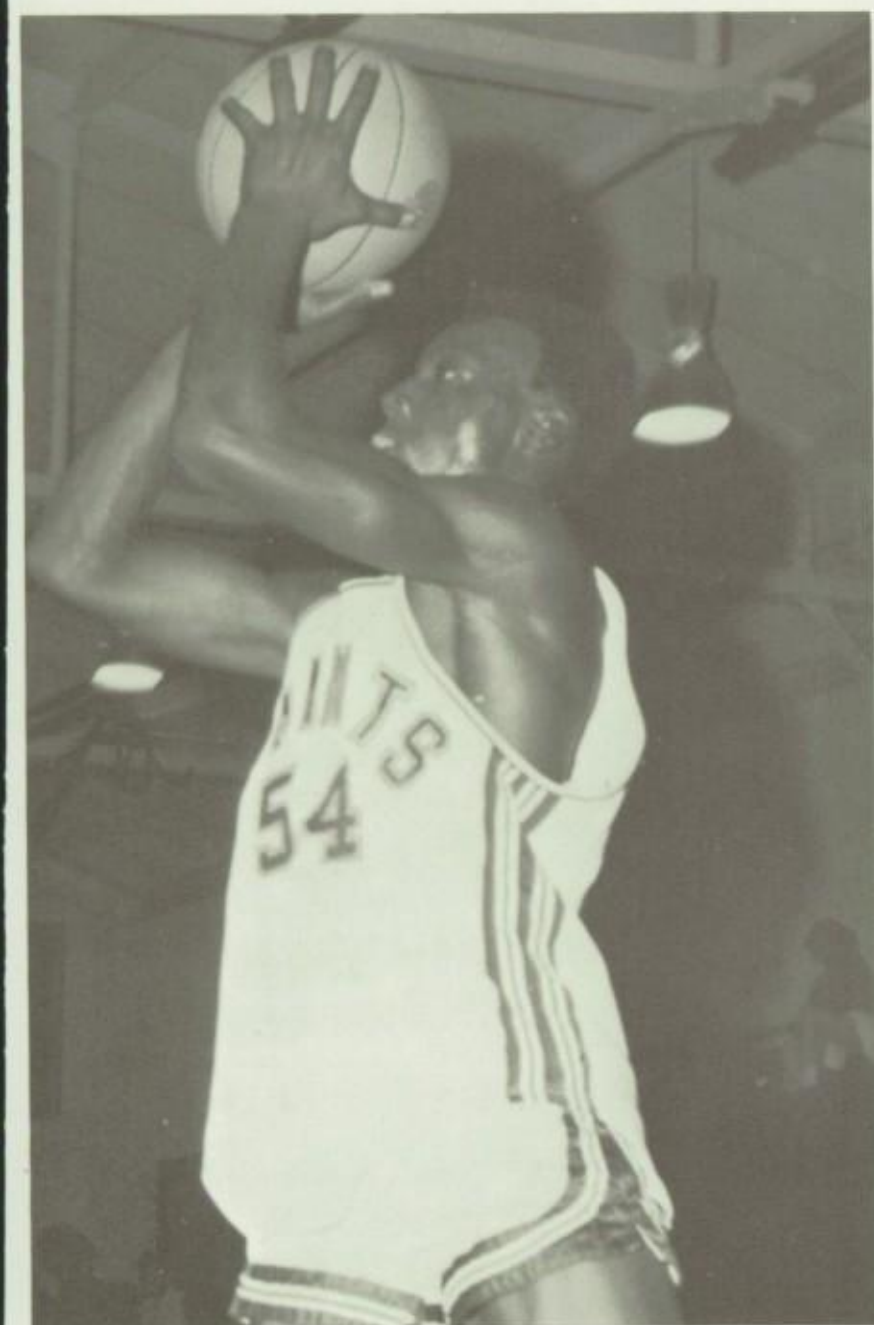

Kneeling: Assistant Coach Clark Dail, Manager Ronnie Carlton, and Head Coach J. D. Evans. Standing: M. Denning, S. Bennett, R. Hollingsworth, L. Pearsall, T. Bowers, J. Murray, E. Lofton, T. Lancaster, and E. Lofton.

Saints struggle for the ball.

Coaches Evans and Dail grimly watch the clock.

Buddy West aims for the basket.

Tommy Bowers shoots over an opponent.

Unbeaten

in previous season. Faltered slightly, losing only to conference champion Northern Nash and second seeded Southern Nash. Was second to SN in a three-way meet. Beat Goldsboro twice. Largest scoring margin was 55 points.

Several

new records. Jackie Broadie ran a 9.8 second 100-yard dash. Alan Jackson breezed the 220-yard dash in 22.6 seconds. The 440-yard dash record was smashed by Thomas Martin, in 52.4 seconds. Charles Kornegay ran the 2-mile in a record 10:57.8 seconds. Mike Wilson earned his way to the Regional Meet. He broke his own 120-yard low hurdles record. The new mark is 15.2 seconds.

"I wonder how far this Frisbee will go?"

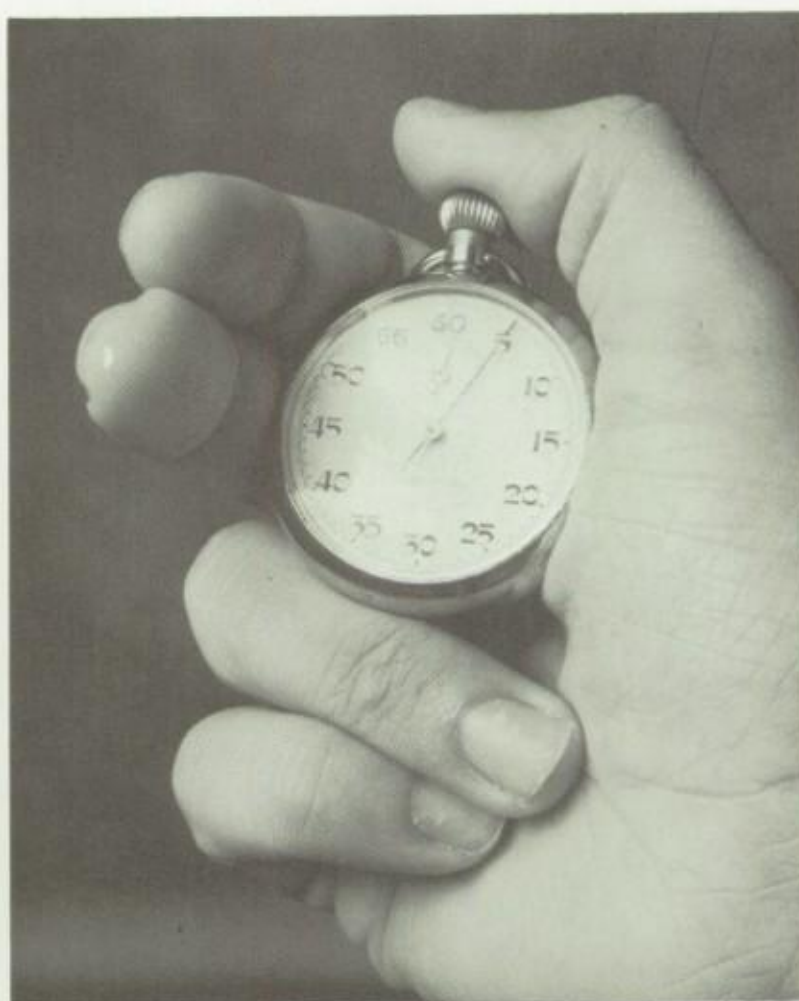

First Row: C. Teachey, A. Jackson, M. Wilson, J. Broadie, C. Kornegay, and R. Bizzell. Second Row: N. Brinson, D. Bass, J. Aultman, R. Baker, T. Martin, J. Murray, and G. Miller. Third Row: J. Murray, B. Stephens, P. Platt, G. Cobb, D. Bass, C. Fox, and J. Cox.

"If we win this one, I'll buy the beer!"

Head Coach Sherman Miles and Assistant Coach Clark Dail.

Time . . . a trackman's toughest competitor.

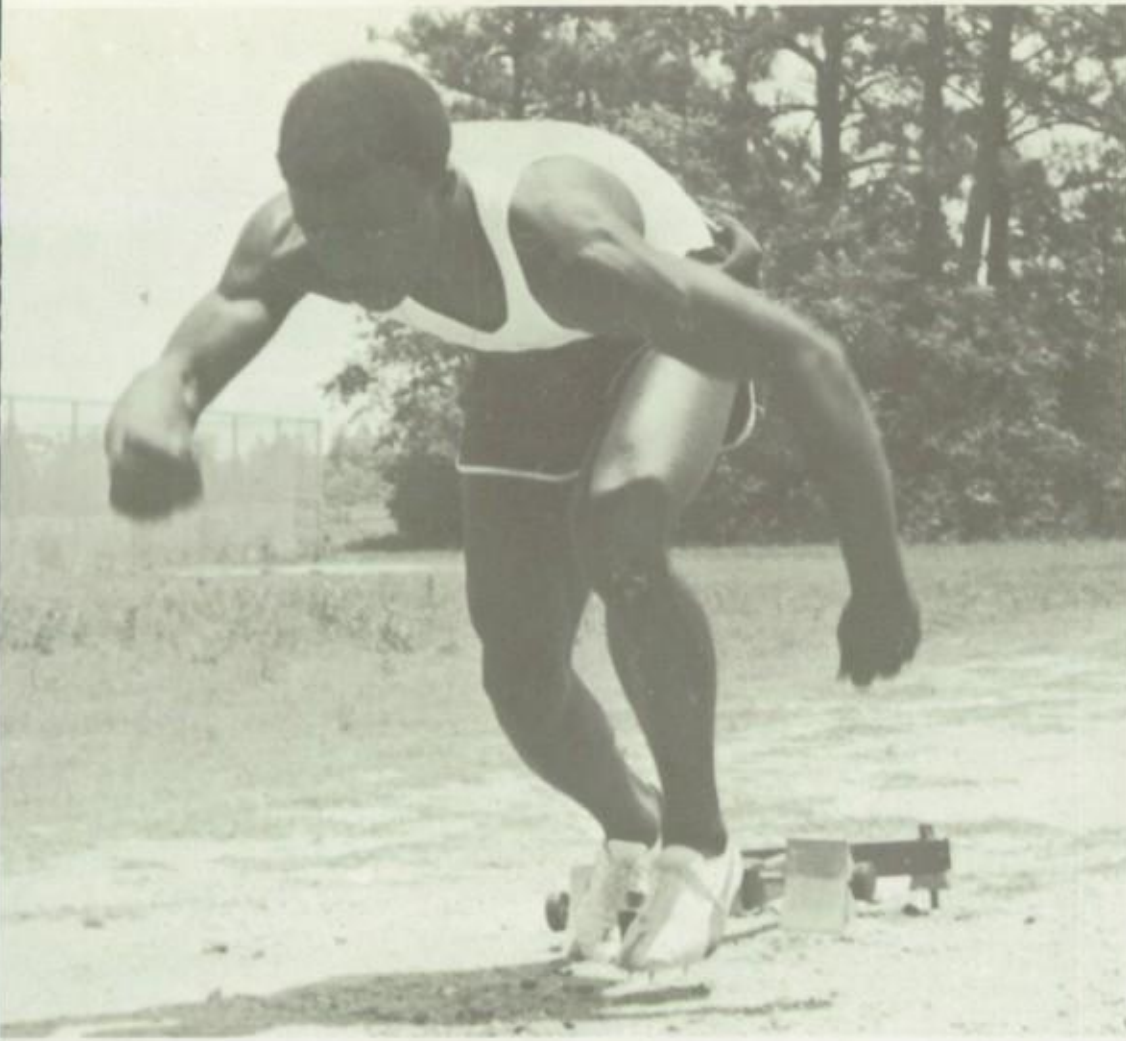

GERONIMO!

Danny Bass readies to put the shot.

Mike Wilson speeds over the hurdles.

Jackie Broadie flies out of the starting blocks.

High-flying Alan Jackson clears the crossbar in practice.

Only one more lap for Thomas Martin.

Coach J. D. Evans relaxes between doubleheader games.

Head Coach Doyle Whitfield readies the pitcher's mound.

A close call! A Northern Nash player avoids a pitched ball.

Slow

start but strong finish. Five wins in last half of season. Ended with 7-13 record. 5-9 conference record. Longest winning streak was 3 games. Beat Hobbs once and North Lenoir twice in season. Highlight of season was a doubleheader sweep from North Lenoir. Saints showed explosive scoring needed all season. Beat Hawks 13 to 6 and 10 to 3.

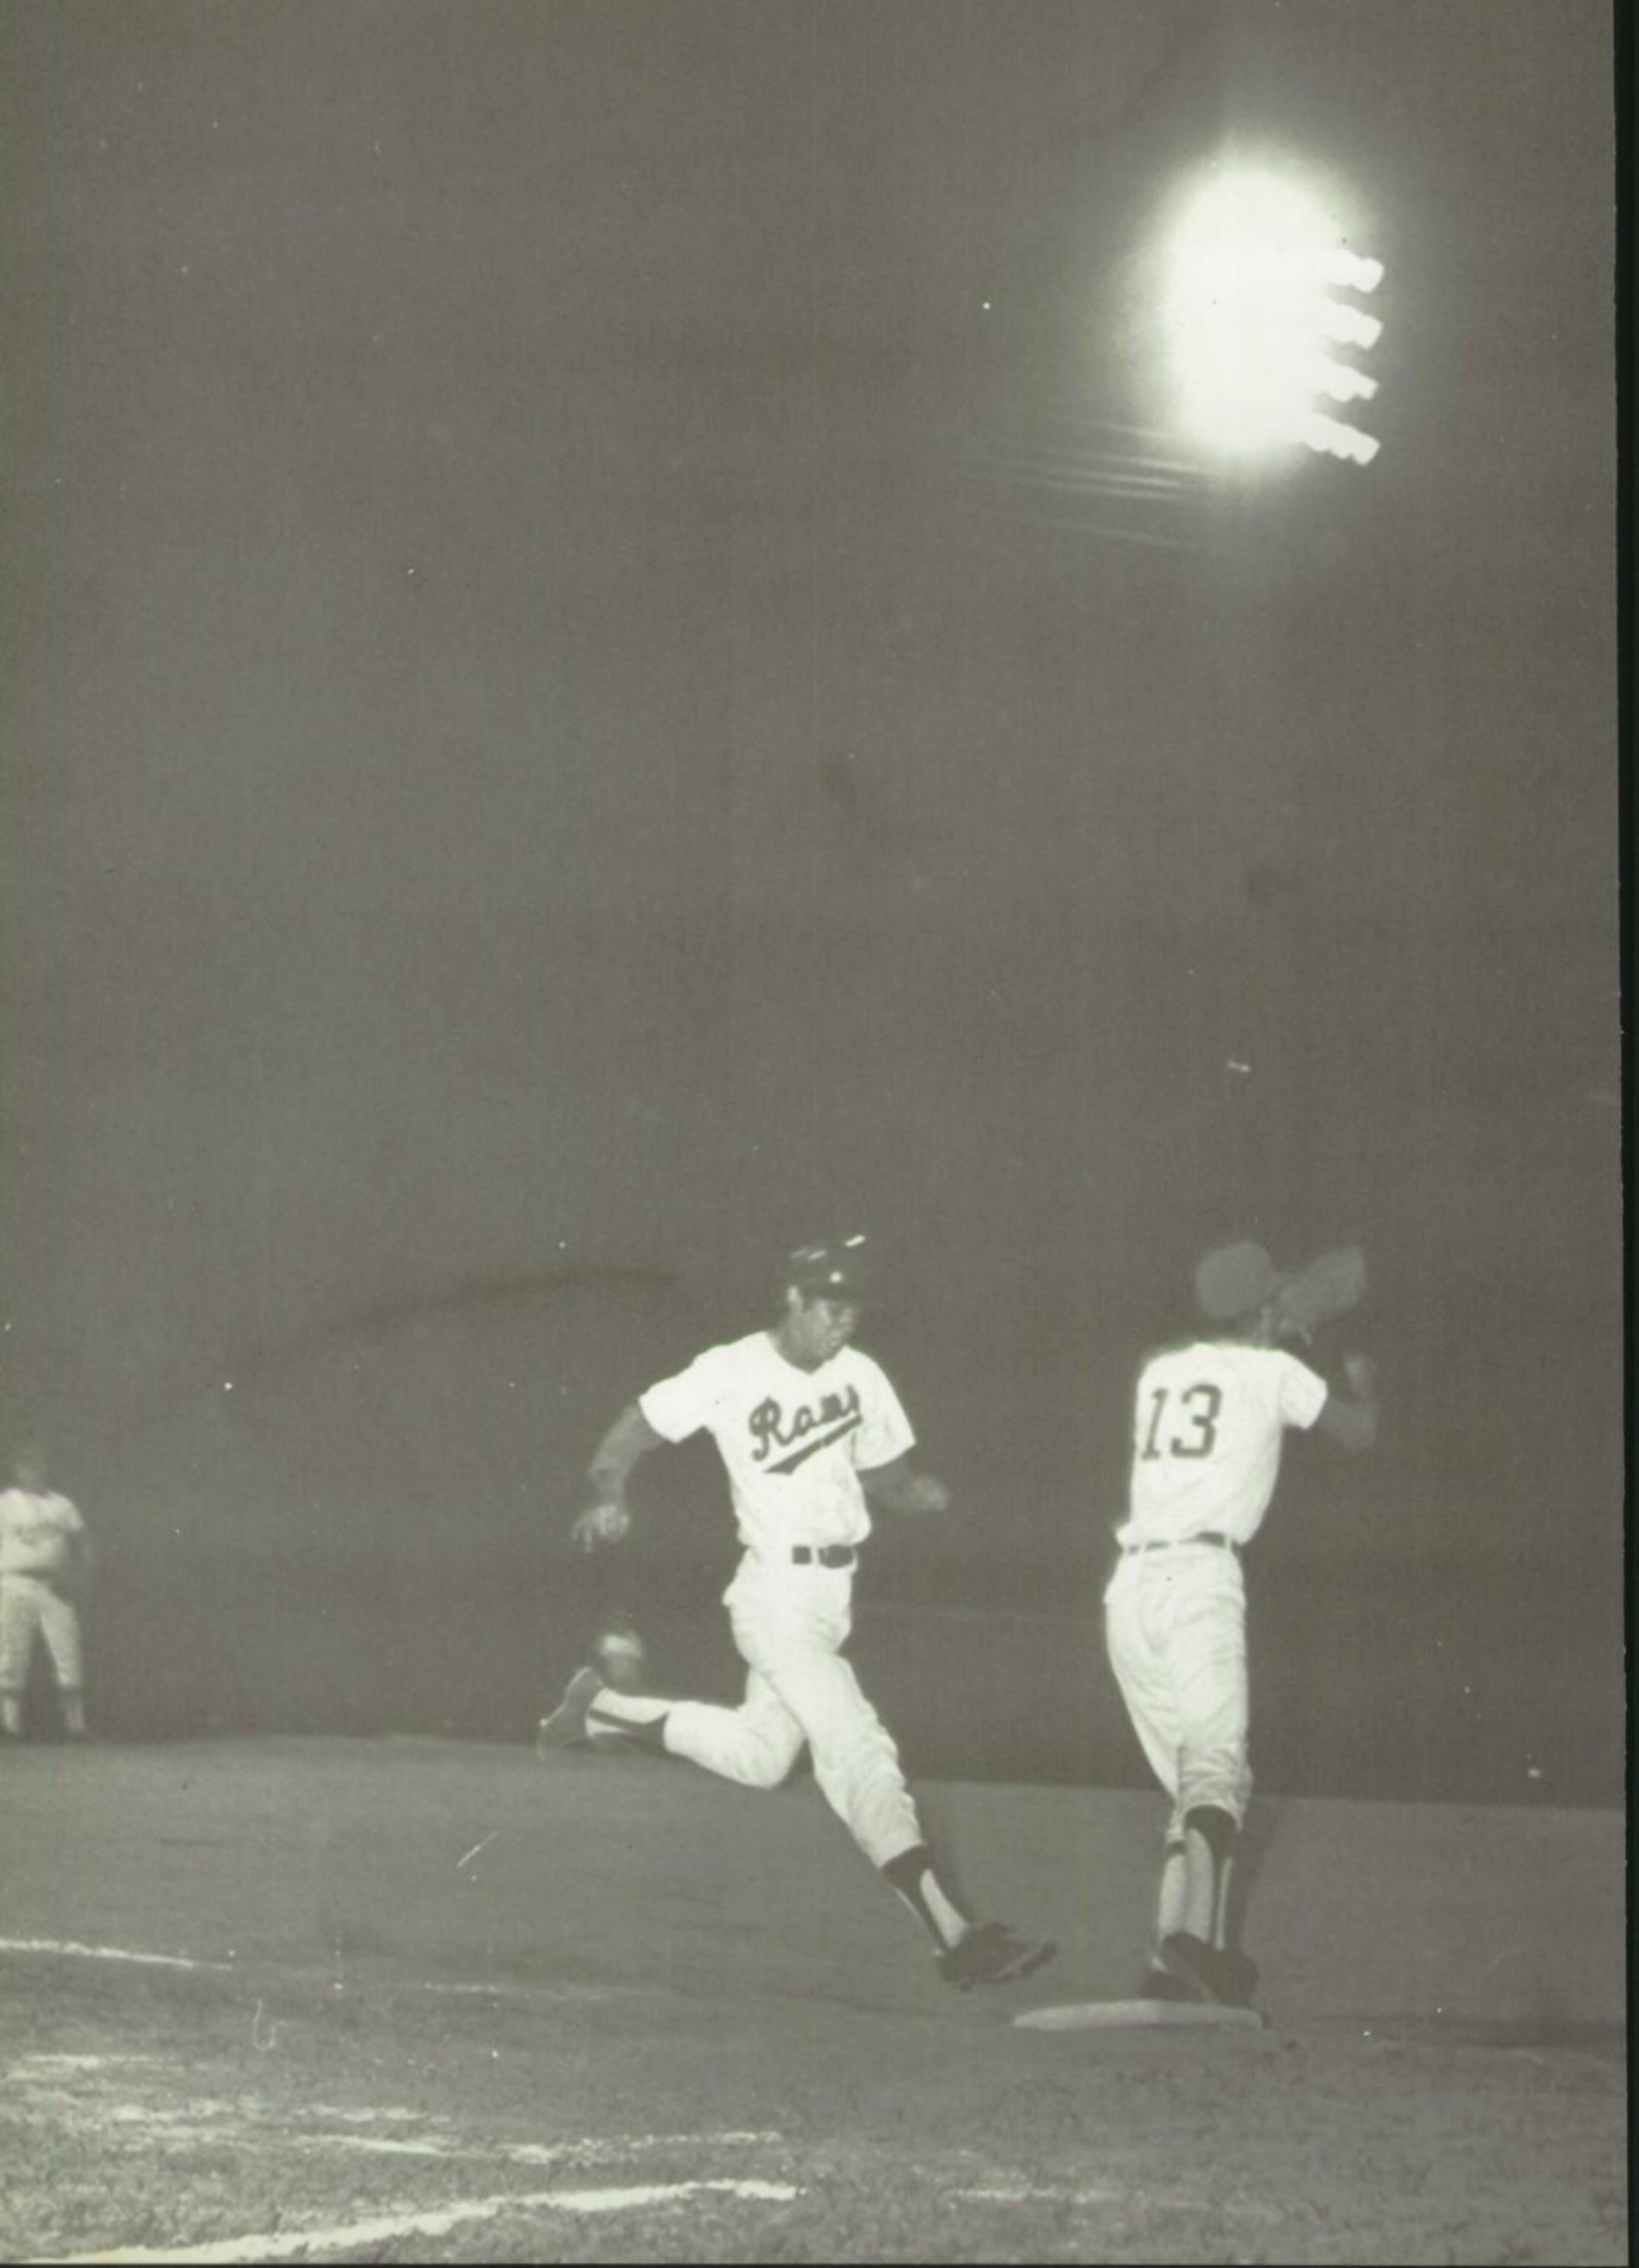

Fireballing

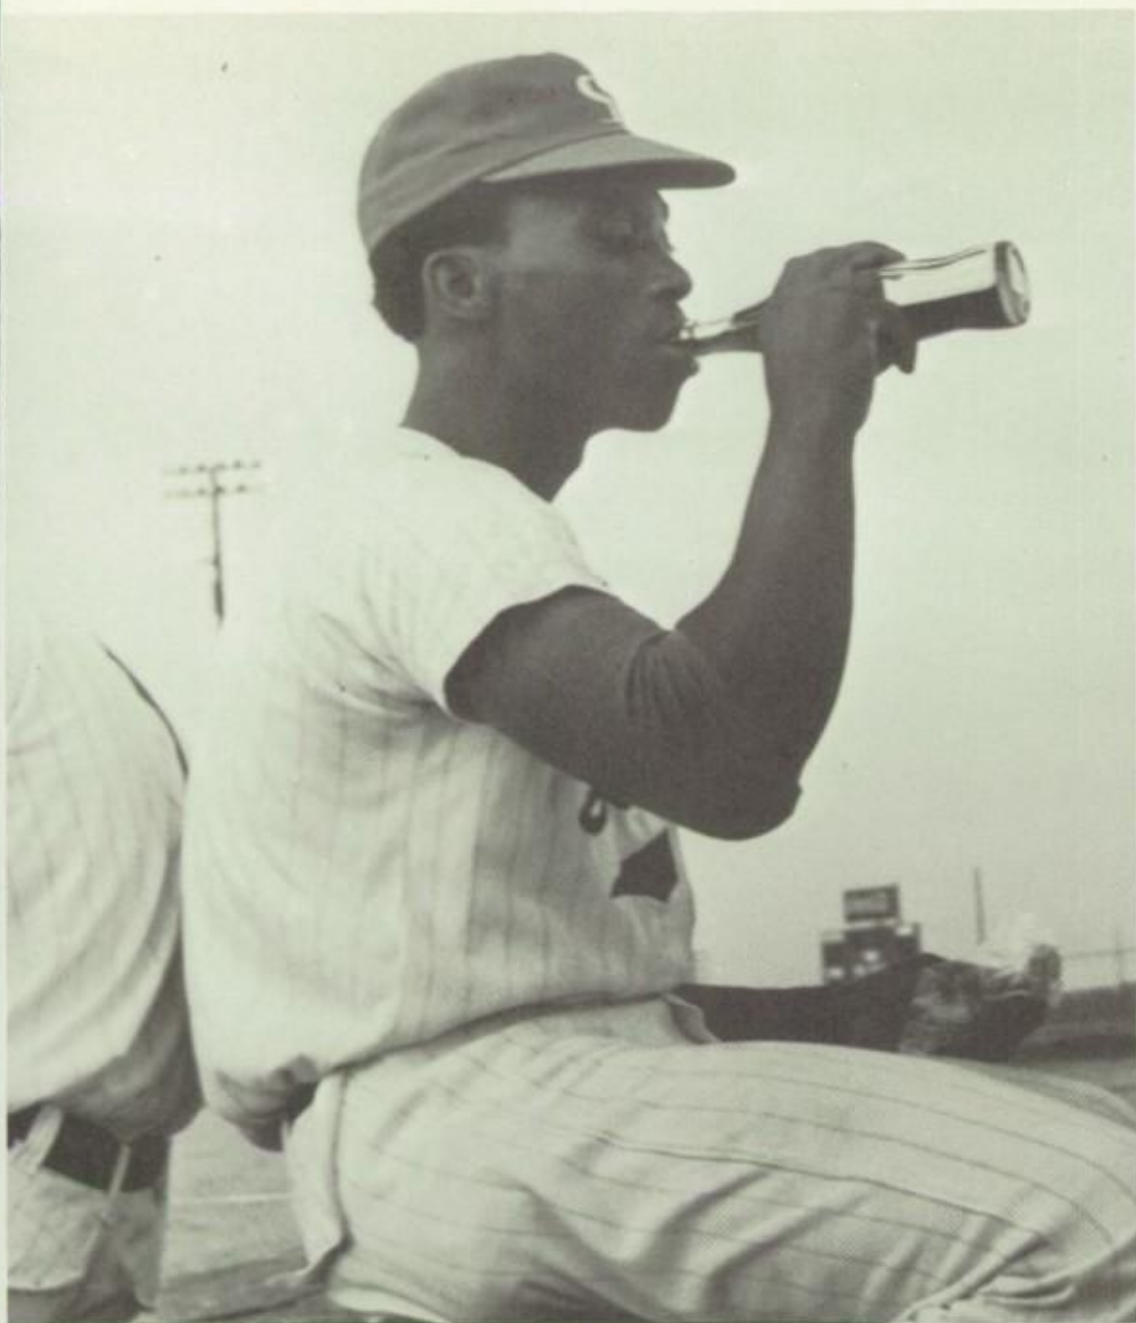

Roy Whitfield led staff in wins with a 4-7 record. Boyzell Johnson was next with a 3-5 mark. Gene Hudgins had a 0-1 record; seeing limited action. All Conference players Preston Parker and Eugene Smith lead hitters.

Eugene Smith reflects a close loss.

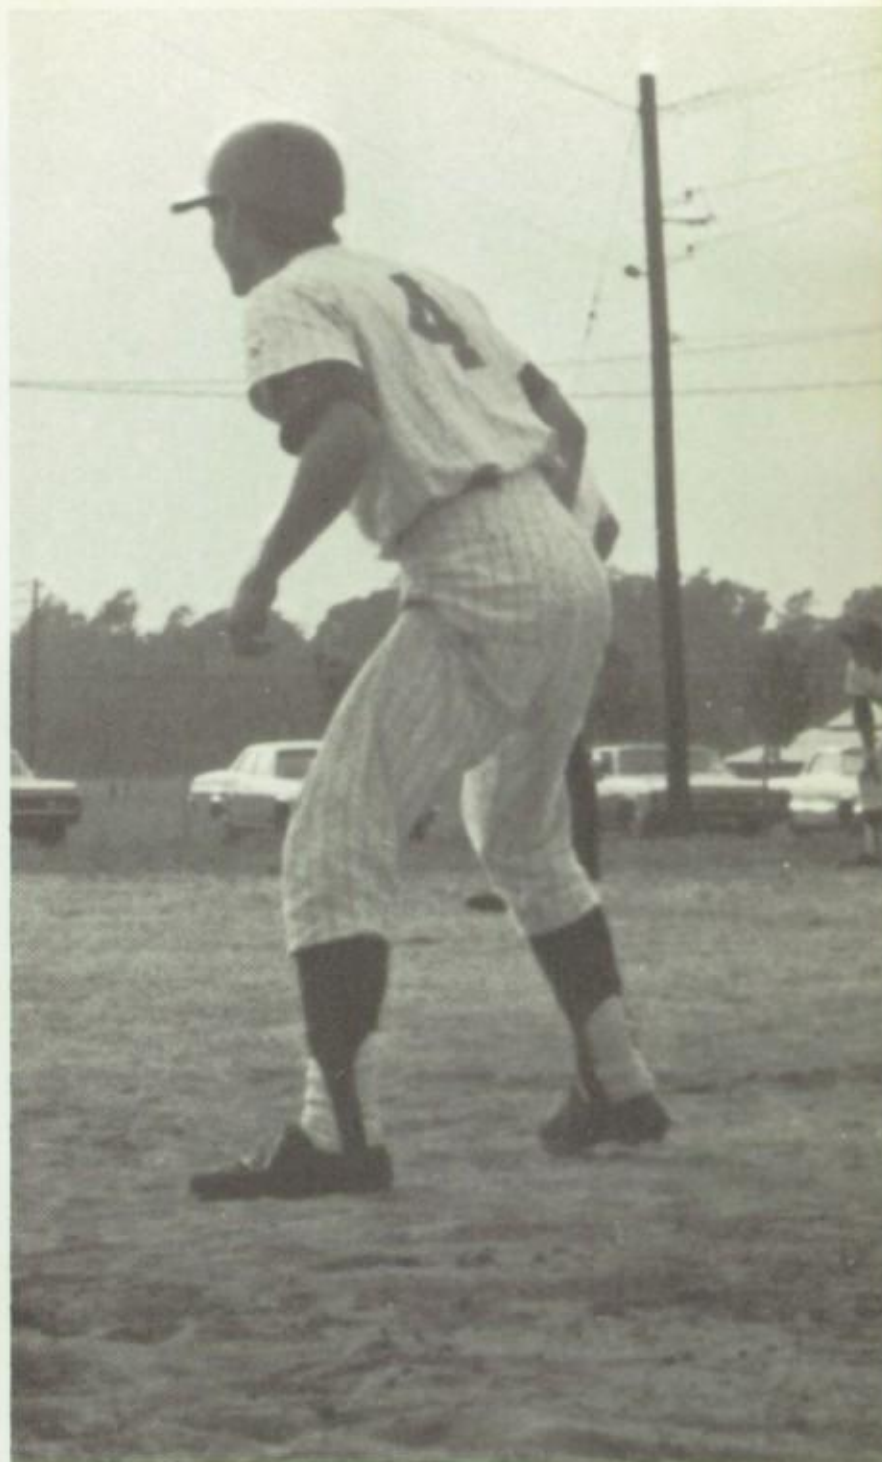

Kneeling: E. Smith, D. Gardner, B. Vernon, B. Sasser, S. Ellis, R. Kuretsch, B. Johnson, and G. Hudgins. Standing: Head Coach Doyle Whitfield, N. Matthews, R. Teachey, P. Parker, T. DeGrechie, R. Whitfield, J. Bennett, A. Rawls, and Assistant Coach Robert DeGrechie.

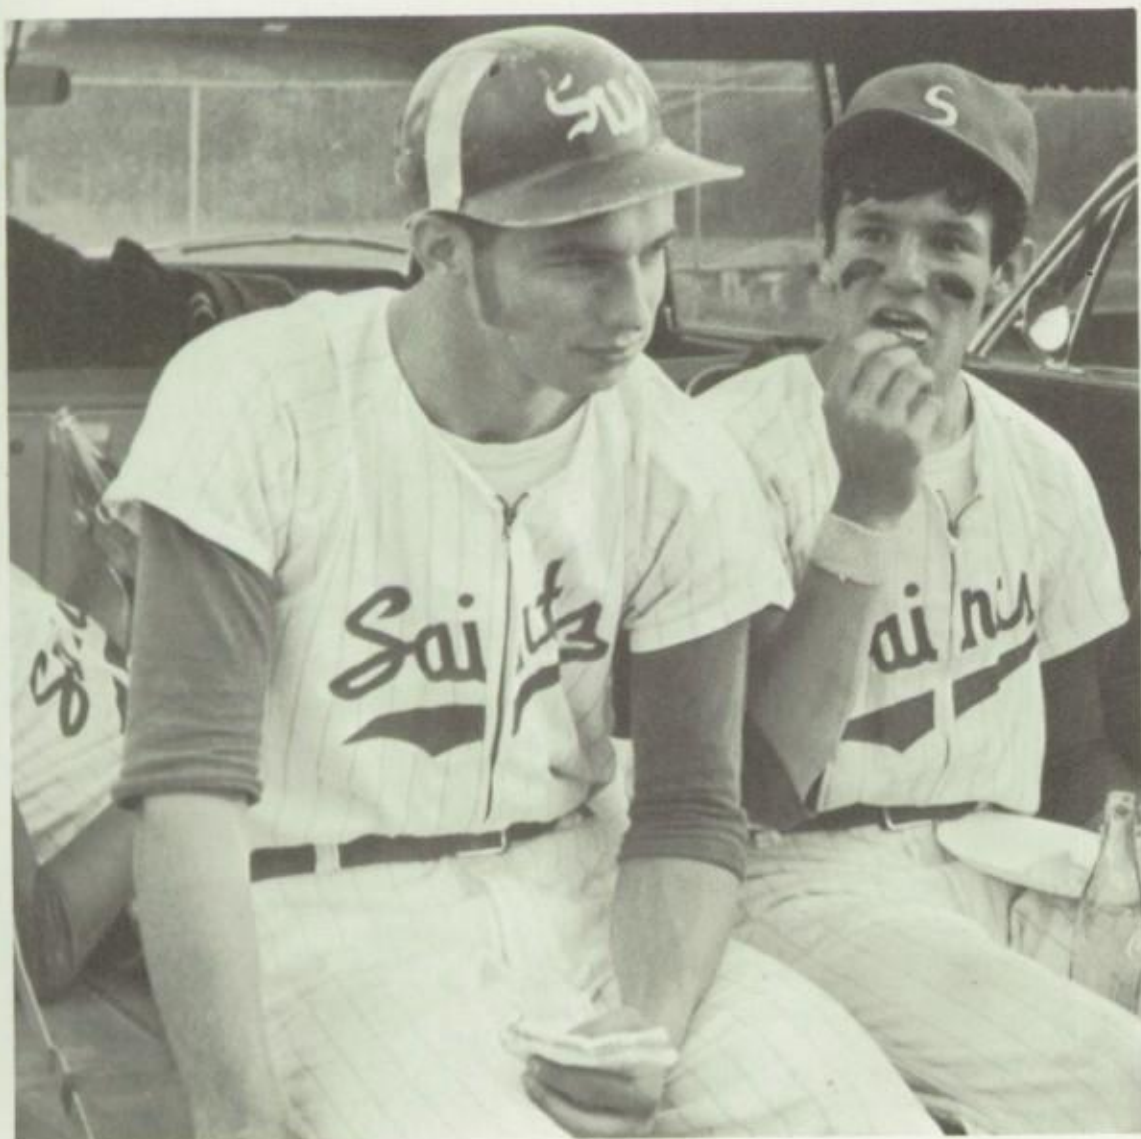

Raymond Teachey enjoys a Coke between games.

Steve Ellis leads off first base.

Roy Whitfield and Bruce Sasser refresh themselves before the game.

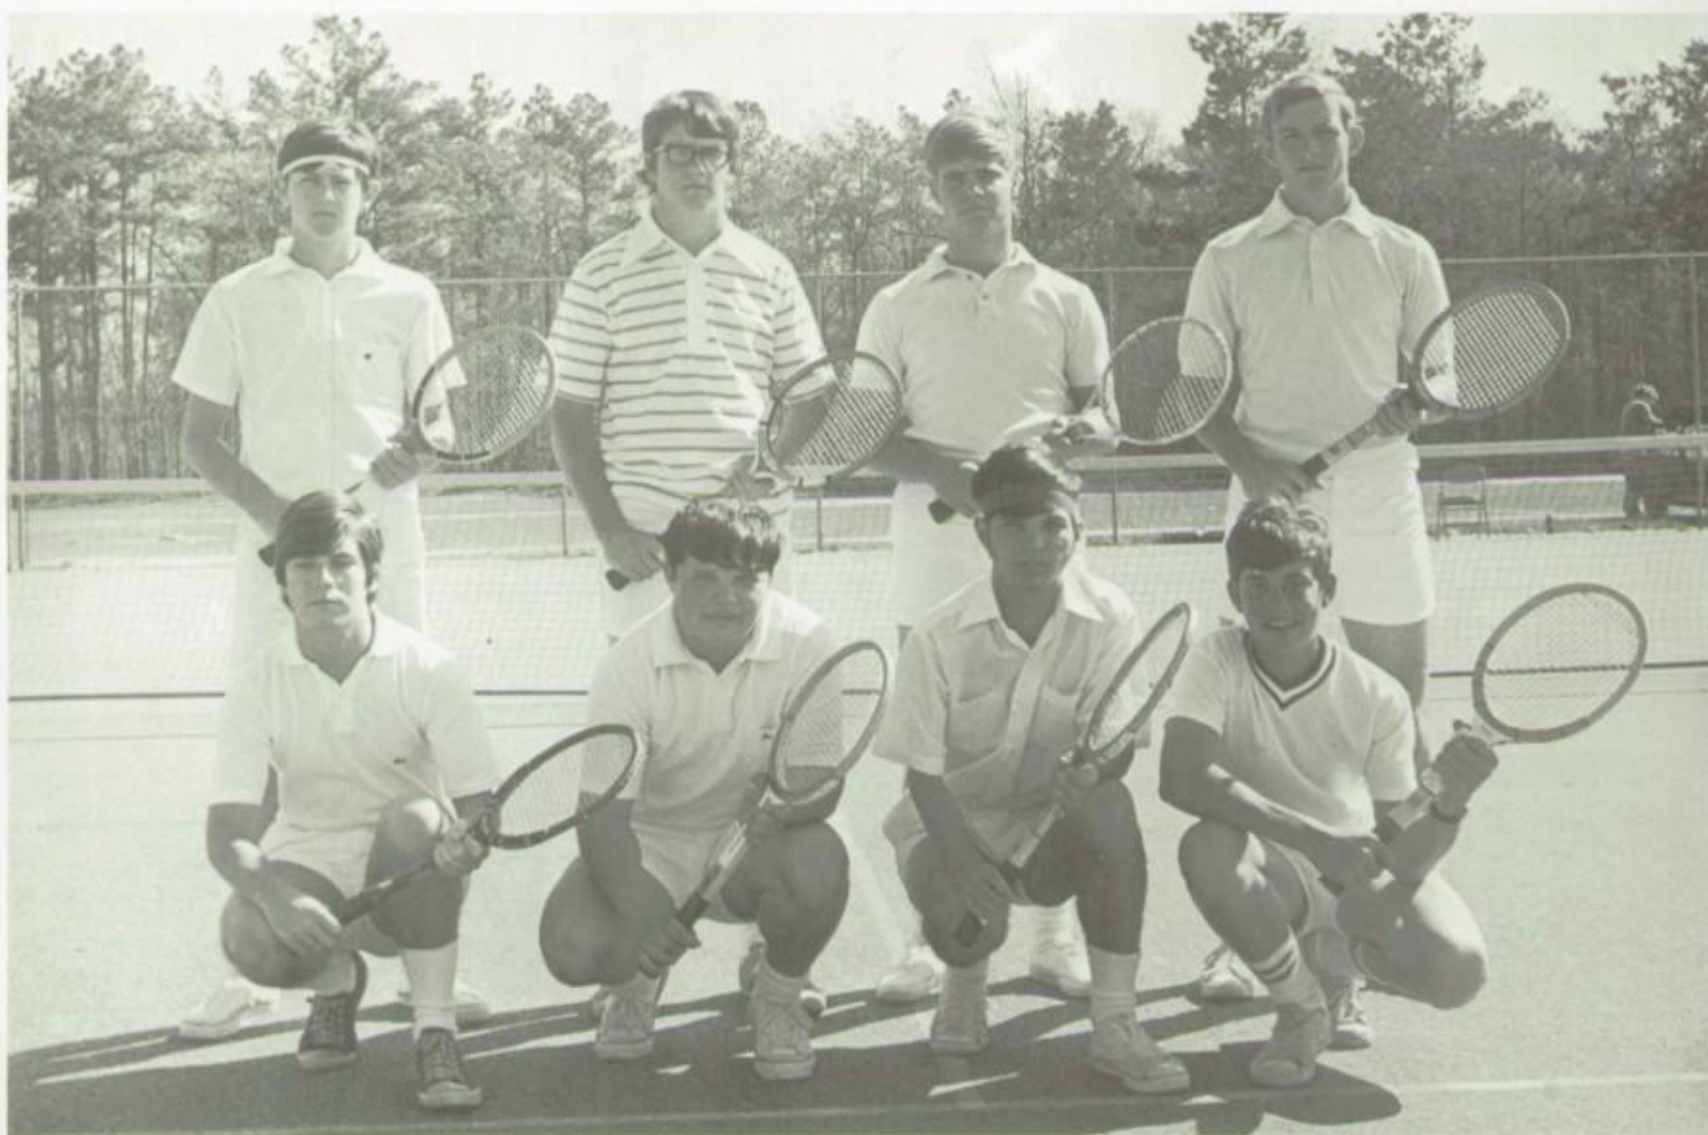

Eugene Smith digs one out of the dirt.

Netters

enjoyed good season. Held a 5-2 record. Most Valuable Ricky Herring and Most Improved Jeff Bennetts led the team. Saints completely overpowered Charles B. Aycock 6-0, twice. Beat Wallace-Rose Hill in three close wins. Wilson-Fike, a 4-A school, proved to be too much for the Saint netters. Beat SW 9-0 and 5-4.

Billy Joe Holliday and Ricky Herring await the serve.

Kneeling: M. Sutton, R. Southerland, B. Holliday, and S. Kemp. Standing: J. Byrd, J. Bennetts, B. Jackson, and R. Herring.

Only

one returnee from last year's team, Donna Wood. Young team showed pride and promise. Owned 2-1 record. Beat C. B. Aycock and Wallace-Rose Hill; lost to Wallace. Several matches canceled due to bad weather.

MVP

Pat Brogden and Most Improved Eunice Davis were SW entries in the State Tournament. Beat Greensboro-Grimsley duet in their first round doubles match. Eliminated in second round by duo from Wilson-Fike High.

Kneeling: K. Overton, D. Bryan, and E. Davis. Standing: D. Wood, C. Warren, P. Brogden, and M. A. Parker.

New

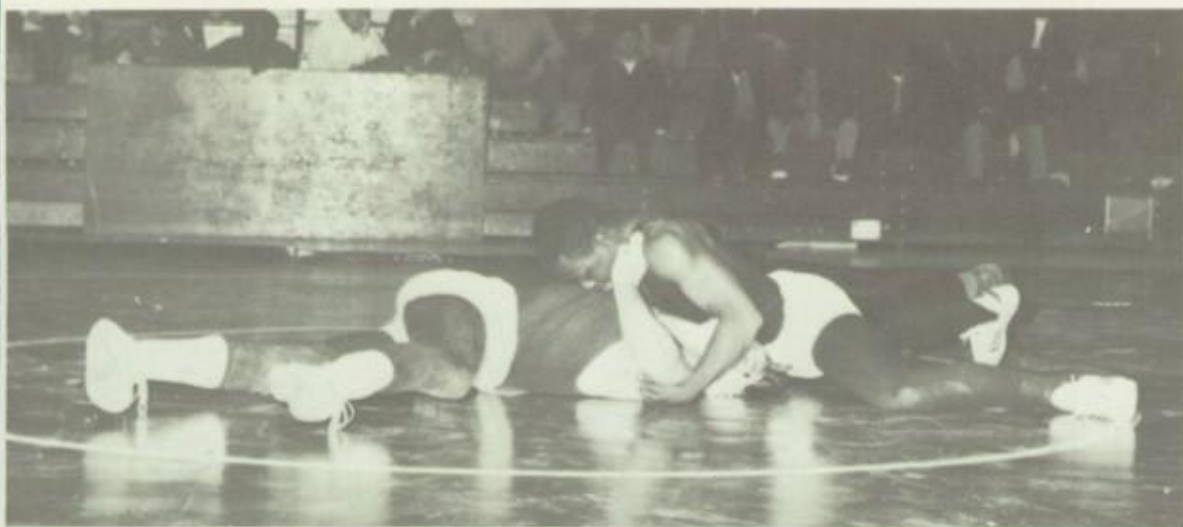

sport at Southern Wayne, coached by Virginia Henry. Rose from desires of physical education students to participate in competitive sports other than intramurals. Team composed of mostly sophomores. Held perfect 4-0 record. Beat both Northern Nash and Greene Central twice. Had several other matches with South Lenoir and East Duplin canceled. Look forward to another season next year.

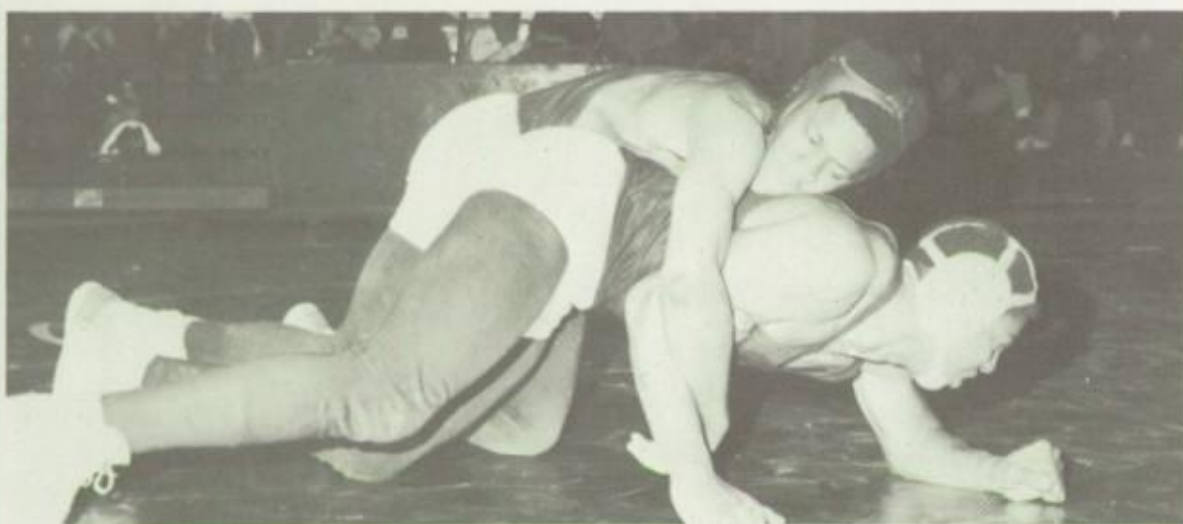

Pat Brogden and Angela Fox practice for the next match.

Kneeling: B. Holt, P. Brogden, E. Davis, A. Lamb, and G. Pate. Standing: C. Smith, M. Jernigan, J. Gilliam, S. Raynor, M. Fennell, A. Fox, K. Pearsall, and D. Grant.

Robert Bizzell pins an opponent.

Carl Fox gains the advantage of his foe.

Test

not only of physical strength and agility but strength of character and quickness of mind. It is a complete test of a man's abilities against his fellow man.

SW Athletics

were complemented by the addition of wrestling. Coach Jimmy Reaves headed the new sport. Although the team didn't win any matches, they showed steady improvement. Their 33-23 loss to Northern Nash, in the season finalé, was their best show. Most Valuable Robert Bizzell and Most Improved Franklin Henderson led the team.

First Row: T. Beard, and W. Whitfield. Second Row: R. Bizzell, S. Kemp, R. Edwards, and F. Henderson. Third Row: A. Lofton, B. Vernon, J. Dickson, and J. Davis.

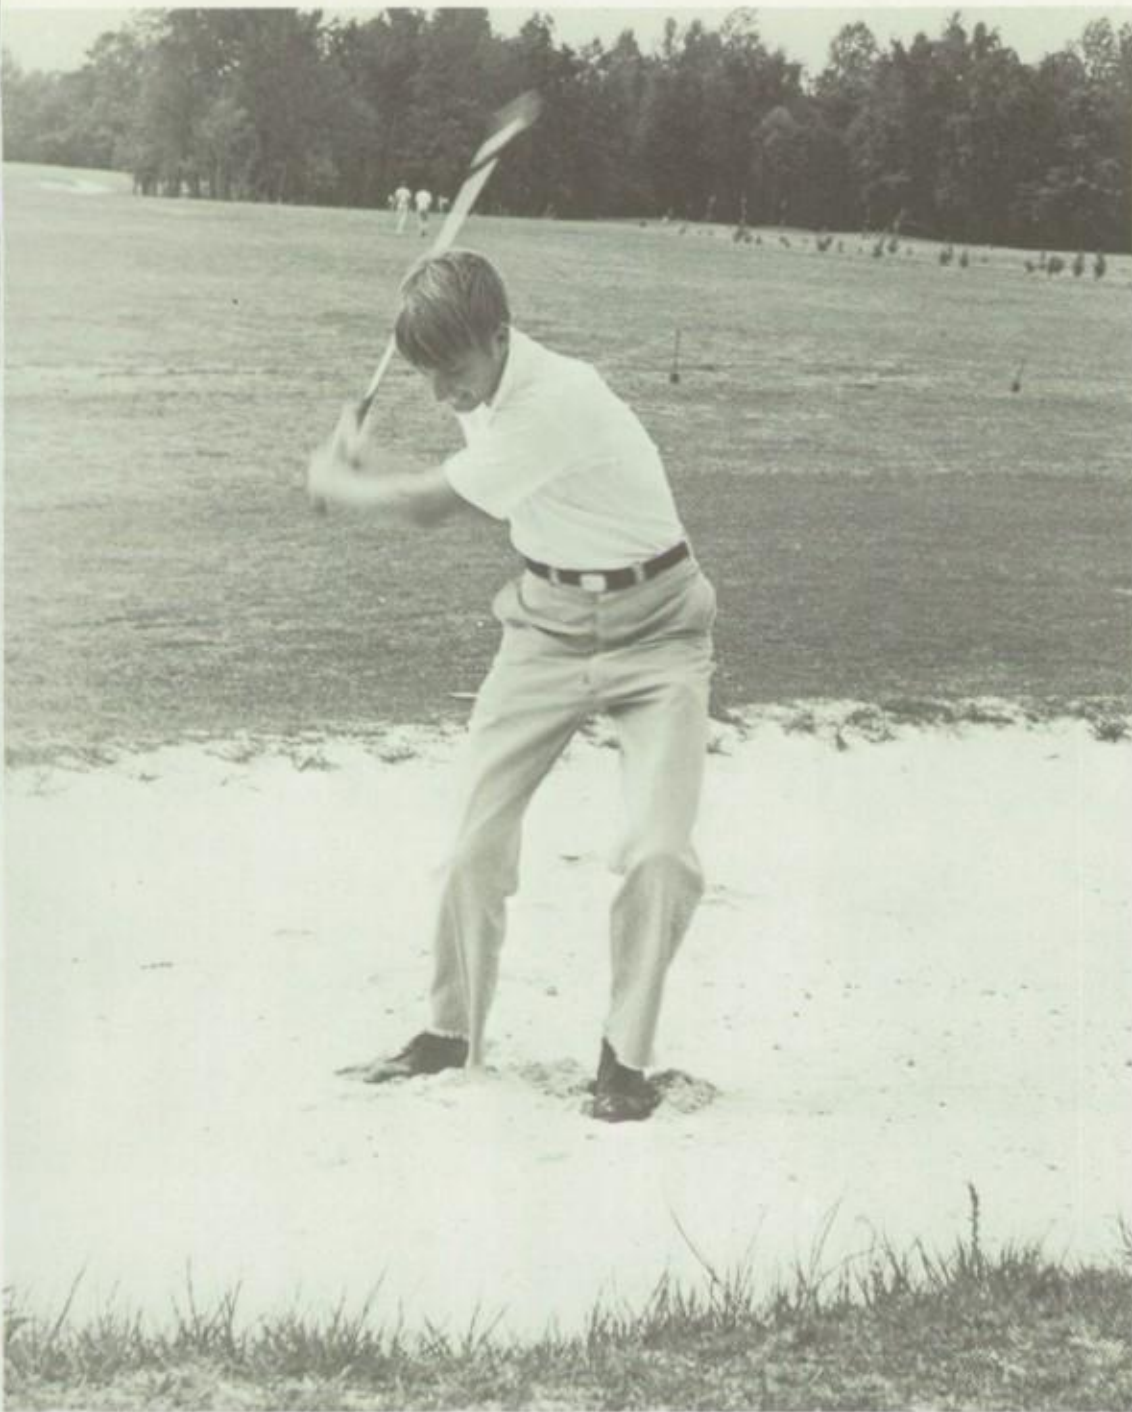

David Bryan tees off.

Jaxie Bryan rolls a putt toward the cup.

First Row: E. A. Southerland, D. Bryan, J. Oates, J. B. Harrell, T. McClenahan, K. Shivar, and M. Lownes. Second Row: R. Marks and J. Venable.

Reid Marks blasts from the sandtrap.

Prospects

for 1970-71 were good. Seven veterans returning from previous season. Most Valuable David Bryan, Most Improved Tom McClenahan, and Jerry Oates led the returnees. Fine team couldn't seem to win although they played well. Best show was their second place finish to Kinston, in which the Saints lost by only four strokes. Only one match at SW Country Club; all others were at Kinston.

Lady

Saints placed sixth in State Tourney at Chapel Hill. Jaxie Bryan led the girls with a 90. Kathy Hill owned a 109. Vera Sue White and Connie Warren carded 115 and 127 respectively. This marked the second year that the girls competed in this tournament.

C. Warren, V. White, K. Hill, and J. Bryan.

Betty Lewis a bundle of team spirit.

Head Cheerleader Thesia Garner.

Legs kick high with high, school spirit.

Saint Power

is generated by a small, often overlooked, group of high spirited girls. They love the excitement and tension of tough competition and the moment of ecstasy that comes with victory or the deject that accompanies loss. Win or lose, they always return to cheer; to lead the fans in cheering; to live for that excitement and that final moment of playing time; to laugh and joke or to cry.

LaGray Johnson and Donna Wood exhibit enthusiasm of another nature.

A new Hustler's Award was presented to Ray Peterson for his extra effort in football. Preston Parker took home two Most Valuable Awards for his performances in baseball and basketball. Mr. Ray MacDonald, President of the Saints' Booster Club, presented special plaques of appreciation to Principal Jimmy Williams and Athletic Director Jimmy Adams. Dr. Milton Lownes and Mr. James Reaves also received special awards for their time and effort devoted to the Boosters Club.

ACTIVITIES

Vim, vigor,

and push in a compact package. Pretty apt summary of SGA President Wendy Crumpler. She provided the "umph" behind this year's active Student Council. Pantsuits and blue jeans meandered down SW halls thanks to a dress code change. Ours was the first SW SGA to sponsor a student to the National Student Council Convention in Indianapolis. Giant scribble pads tried to replace graffiti in bathrooms and halls. Other innovations included an ecological project called S.A.V.E. Week. Last fall was the setting for a Faculty Tea given by SGA. First Student Council of SW Senior High sponsored several "firsts" of its own. Agreement was not always unanimous; but, compromises were accomplished in the end.

Candy, candy, and more candy.

Clorinda Lee, Wendy Crumpler and Julia Ann Hatcher check over the clothes provided for the Faison family.

Senior Class Officers: C. Lee, Treasurer; P. Parker, Vice President; J. Thornton, Secretary; and L. Frederick, President.

Color TV

could be yours. Just a dollar for a ticket. Raffled during half-time at the basketball game. So ran the sales pitch of Southern Wayne students trying to raise money for SGA by raffling a television. Inflation and apathy took their toll; the Raffle was not a success.

Pecan Logs

ruined lunches for several weeks. Melted in your mouth. Peanut brittle crunched during class. The candy sold great until the pecan logs sold out. The Candy Drive was an attempt to make up for the raffle. Just couldn't collect all of the money though.

Debbie McLamb displays the "neat approach" to the new dress code.

Run-offs

between close contending candidates. Pleading voices of young politicians asking for that all-important vote. Campaign managers scurrying to get posters in the best spots. Student Council officers and elections committee counting ballot after ballot after ballot. Plagued by some of the ordinary chaos that all elections bring, the 1971-72 SGA, class officers, and homeroom representatives Elections ran in a smooth succession. Several run-offs were necessary; Larry Henderson was forced to yield to Angelo Wooten as SGA president. Voting interest was high; election organizations was great.

Debbie Hatch listens as nominees present their platforms.

Carl Fox and Wendy Crumpler congratulate Angelo Wooten, 1971-72 Student Council President-elect.

Brian receives parental advice from his American parents, Dr. and Mrs. Milton Lownes.

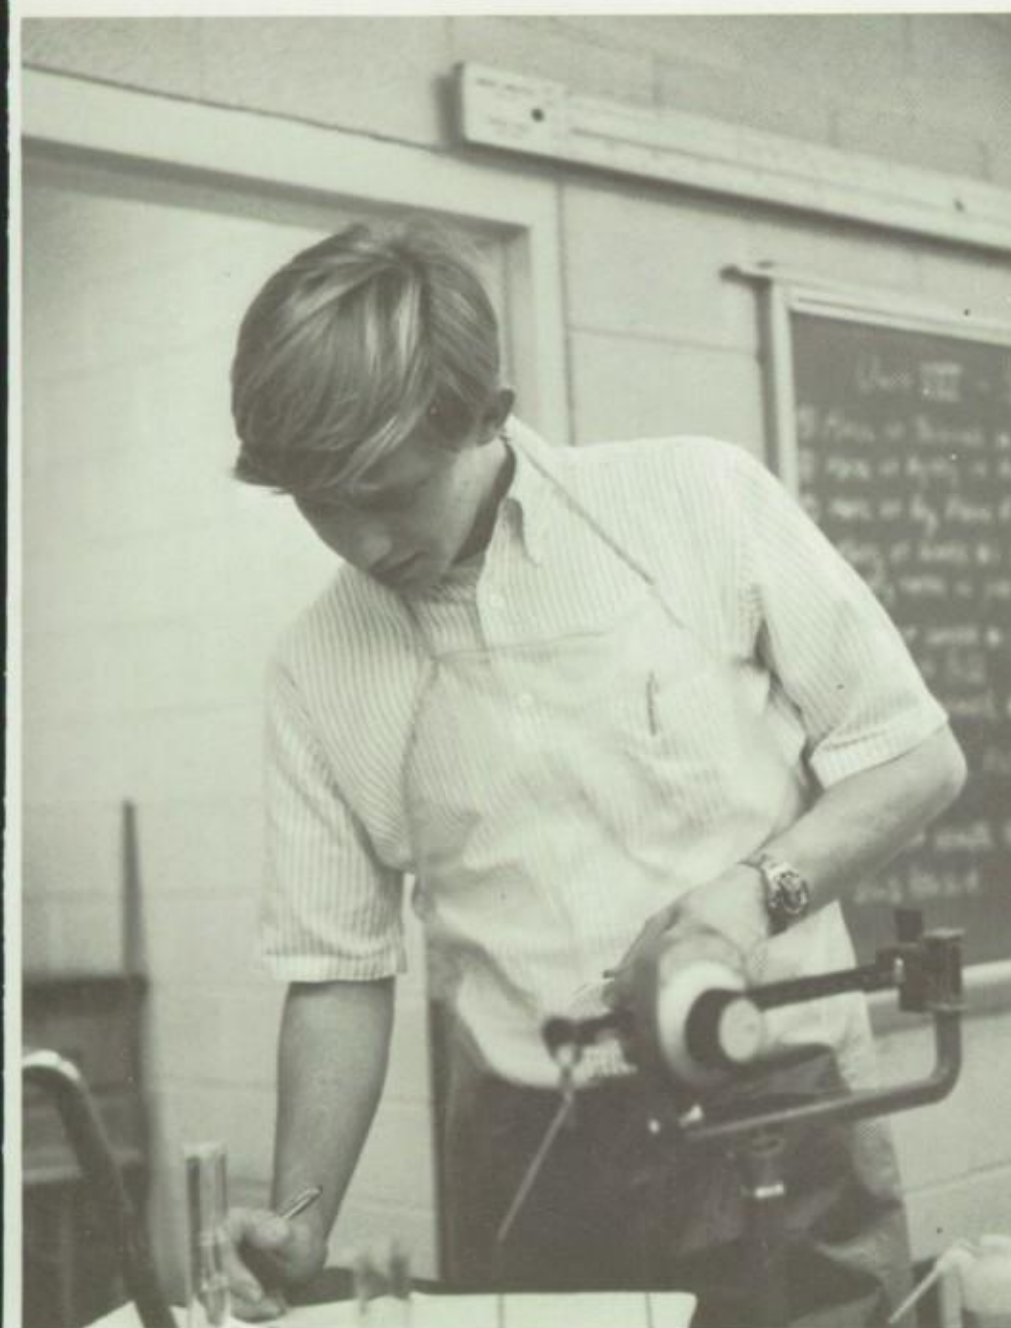

"Happy Birthday Brian!"

One of the more pleasant aspects of American life.

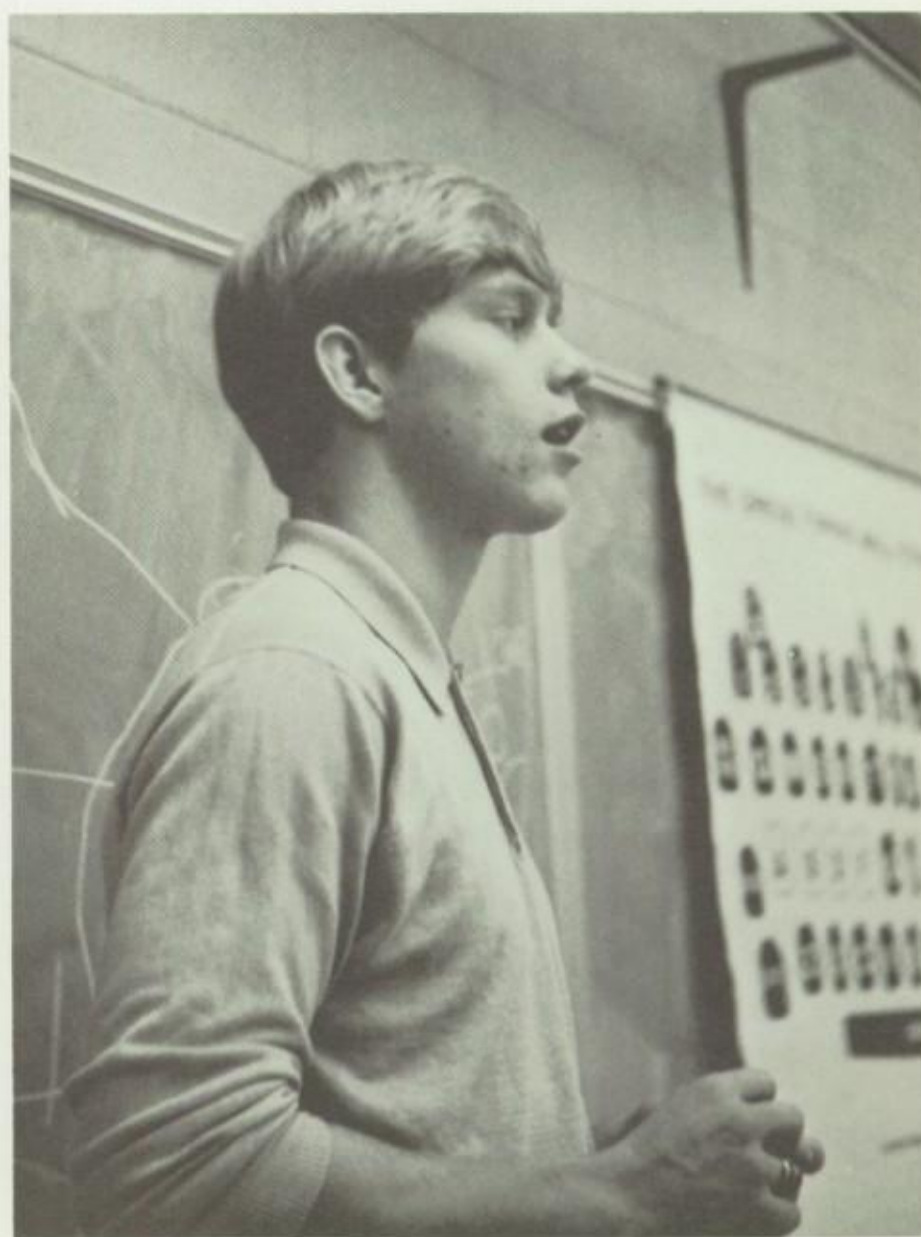

Brian takes in small-town life.

An experiment.

Johannesburg,

South Africa. Faraway; different lifestyle, Apartheid, metropolis, and few co-ed schools. Pine trees? None. Driver's license? When you're eighteen. How's it like over there? Ask Brian Stephens. Impeccable English with a distinct British flavor (although he's seventh generation African and proud of it). Top form cross country runner. Everyone has seen him gliding down 117. Top IQ also; studies medicine at one of South Africa's best universities. Plays rugby as well as more worldly sports. He was ours for a year; he was Mark Lownes' second brother; he was an interesting experience for the whole community. We dulled his accent a bit with our own slow twang; but, Brian left an imprint deeper than transitory things. He showed us part of his world as we shared part of ours. Our first Foreign Exchange Student could be our best because he lived what getting lifestyles together is all about. "Carry on" Brian!

A lecture.

Taurus, Gemini,

and a zodiac of astrological beauties. Lifesize football players, balloons, and quarrels about the winning float. Lagging spirit for Spirit Week whipped up by a candle-lit skit, and a reproduction of "Reverend Leroy and Geraldine." Homecoming, requiring hundreds of hours of dedicated preparation, proved to be one of the most successful activities of the year. A host of unique events were innovated to provide pure fun.

Football

players were honored on Wednesday of Spirit Week; Mike Wilson's shapely legs won the Pretty Legs Contest. Class officers swallowed their pride to make themselves as ugly as possible; Senior officers won the King and Queen Ugly Contest. A parade wandered from nearby Mt. Olive back to Southern Wayne's green field. Barbeque was hastily gobbled in an effort to catch the game. Half-time brought a cheer from the Senior Spirit Week winners. 13-12 was the nerve-shattering score when our Saints finally overwhelmed C. B. Aycok. By this time, enthusiasm was at a peak which lasted through Saturday night. "Soul Syndicate" provided the beat that moved alumni and students.

education through work participation. Competition on district and state levels in career areas such as advertising layout and job interview. Trips to Jacksonville and Charlotte to learn the essentials of DECA operations and the leadership goals of officers. Distributive Education Clubs of America put into action the ideals for which it stands. One banquet began the year with an outline of activities. These activities were culminated at another banquet May 25, when Mr. Terry McPherson and Mrs. Katherine Kirby were given a certificate of appreciation and honorary membership respectively. Two students who exemplified DECA's better way to prepare for a career were Neil Price and Betty Jo Parker, Boy and Girl Students of the Year.

One of the best-organized clubs at SW, it spun from one project to another in its roulette of year's activities. A bulletin board told the story of today's secretary during National Secretary Week. Herman Park was the site of still another banquet with VICA. Their year ended with the roulette of activities spun, finished in typically business style — well-done.

Shades

We had expected Mozart or "From the Halls of Montezuma"; but "the Pink Panther" in person? The truth was that the Marine Corps Band put on the best show of the year. Their talent was amazing and their style was sharp.

Joyful songs of spirit thrive in rhythm.

involved members plastered booster posters in every wing. "Burn the Firebirds," etc. helped bolster morale and drew crowds. HIGH FLIGHT

By John Gillespie Magee, Jr.

Oh, I have slipped the surly bonds of earth
And danced the skies on laughter-silvered wings;
Sunward I've climbed, and joined the tumbling mirth
Of sun-split clouds—and done a hundred things
You have not dreamed of—wheeled and soared and swung High in the sunlit silence. Hov'ring there,
I've chased the shouting wind along, and flung
My eager craft through footless halls of air.
Up, up the long, delirious, burning blue I've topped the windswept heights with easy grace
Where never lark, or even eagle flew.
And, while with silent, lifting mind I've trod
The high untrespassed sanctity of space,
Put out my hand, and touched the face of God.

mockup flight crew training. Seven pilots, seven navigators alias ROTC cadets testing the F-4 flight simulator of the 4th Tactical Fighter Wing. Senior ROTC predictions at ECU for four SW cadet club members. Its first year concentrating on Pilot Sciences, the Junior Reserve Officer's Training Corps actually learned piloting. A F-4E Phantom II pilot, Capt. James McDevitt, spoke to the club as did Capt. Bruce Basden, commander of a B-52 Stratofortress. Films added to the valuable, advanced learning experience of this club. A conversion to an Honorary Air Society is projected for next year.

Banquet speaker, Mr. Eugene Price, Goldsboro News — Argus Editor.

"Here is the story, a sweet love story."

"Have I got a deal for you"! A genuine Pier-Glasse!

Pier-Glasse

unfolding the mysteries of young, creative minds. Unanswerable questions and confused criticism of literary works . . . movies, plays, novels, poetry. Rod McKuen and The Love Machine. "Under the Yum-Yum Tree" at the Village Dinner Theater. Dramatic reading from contemporary poets; eating cookies; having the Pier-Glasse typed twice. Pier Group represents young minds seeking philosophical enlightenment, peering into the deep to grope for an answer. This select group of students anachronized classical literature and found old themes anew in contemporary literature. Their booster was Mrs. Sandra Roberts whose vitality was contagious. Their triumph was the successful publication of a unique collection of student muses, proof that potential often lies hidden.

Unique ideas were often present by President Martha Arthur.

Lack

of student body involvement was overcome by this year's newspaper. The brand new Crusader staff introduced some brand new ideas. Students submitted more articles, more editorials, and especially more poetry. Another first was the favorable public relations columns written by Most Valuable Staffer Reid Marks for the Goldsboro News Argus. As an effort to show the community good aspects of students, it was a success. Success seemed to characterize the Crusader Staff in its initial year. A field trip to the Mount Olive Tribune yielded better understanding of techniques. A change of advisors in mid-year did not hinder the staff's efficient progress. Prompt is the collective term for this paper which came out on time; each time getting bigger and better. Their Senior Edition was a tribute to the year's work.

Aim high,

therefore, increase goals. Guest speaker Rev. Jim White's advice to the Fellowship of Christian Athletes. Candy was sold — enough to pay one hundred dollars of the Athletic Banquet. Sponsored by the Saint Boosters, these lettered athletes were feted to a banquet to honor outstanding members. Coveted trophies were provided by Mt. Olive Savings & Loan Association.

The biggest blue eyes in the littlest boy. The frantic pleasure of children's excited play. Eighteen-year olds dressed as clowns riding those little folks "piggy-back." These were some of the moments experienced by the National Honor Society at their spring project. An evening of fun and food was given the children of the Free-will Baptist Home for Children at Middlesex. NHS also donated the money necessary to supply a publication for these wonderful kids.

Disappointment

plagued the society when the fall and spring tapplings were cancelled. Under the steadying guidance of Mrs. Narron and Mrs. Clark, creative genius blossomed into a unique tapping ceremony. However, the new members who were inducted by formal invitations cherish the honor nonetheless.

An innovation was installed this year by this organization which strives to serve others. A special award was presented to Miss Mary Ann Oates, a deserving lady who is recognized for her infinite, unselfish service to NHS and to others.

a "Holiday by the Bay" in Tampa, Florida. The culmination of weeks of preparation by Spanish Club members. Aura of matadors and traditional Spain cast on "tourist" students. Bush Gardens and Ybor City showed their Spanish faces to eager club members. Total involvement with Spanish life was extenuated in a Spanish pig-picking at Mt. Olive College Recreational Center. Pork barbeque was no novelty; but, the black beans and Spanish rice presented a challenge to taste buds. The food must be enticing because the club held a Taco dinner to celebrate school's end. Speakers made the language and life of Spain even more real. Iris Cordoba, Argentinian exchange student from GHS and William Ledford of Meredith College spoke to the club on various aspects of Spanish life and Spanish-related nations.

Hurried games of Match and Pass-Word — in a foreign language. Resolved:

that our Future Farmers of America has to be one of the most actively involved and continually successful clubs in the state. Learn by doing is their theory. Competition involves local, district, and state levels. Brought back to SW eleven first places out of fourteen entries in individual competition; three first places out of four chapter competitors. Includes such areas as dairy, swine, and poultry breeding and feeding; forestry, sawmill and logging; bakery; agriculture sales and service. Club projects encourage members to excell in Tool Identification, Agricultural Speech, Parliamentary Procedure, Livestock Judging, Timber Cruising and Tree Identification, or Wildlife Conservation. Father and Son Banquet saw awards presented to deserving members in these fields. Just proves that our future farmers will be well-versed in all aspects of Agriculture.

"Sleep Study"

explained by student guest, Carl Fox. The zodiac brought into sharp focus midst the velvet black of Morehead Planetarium's dome. Quality prevailed over quantity in the annual Science Fair; three exhibits were placed in the State Science Fair. Mr. Smith's enthusiastic prodding kept the Science Club busy. Its highlight for the year was an educational field trip to Morehead Planetarium in Chapel Hill.

Bobby Jackson and Donna Best put finishing touches on their projects.

Walls

covered with the blooming genius of young artists, not graffiti. Catchy library window displays that stop the most apathetic of students. Carrying out the motive of all artists, the Art Club provided voluminous displays of excellent, unique works in the lobby and library windows. Zeno Spence, a professional artist, spoke to the group; a representative from Belk-Tyler's also was a guest.

Lynette Sapp displays her art talent.

President Larry Henderson and Advisor Mrs. Jean Willis inventory art supplies.

Complaints

heard out and discussed. Peeves instigated by runny-nosed kids. Patience and sanity restored by Mr. Evans. The Bus Drivers Club has the sole purpose to provide an atmosphere to discuss not only daily problems but also to decide the best safety methods for student transportation. The responsibilities entailed by driving a bus are tremendous; such an organization as this club enhances proper attitudes. Examples of these attitudes are exemplified by Chester Melvin, Barbara Parker, and Calvin Perkins who were named Most Outstanding Bus Drivers.

Contemplating the day's duties is Mary Raynor.

Mr. Evans points out Cathy Williams' bus route.

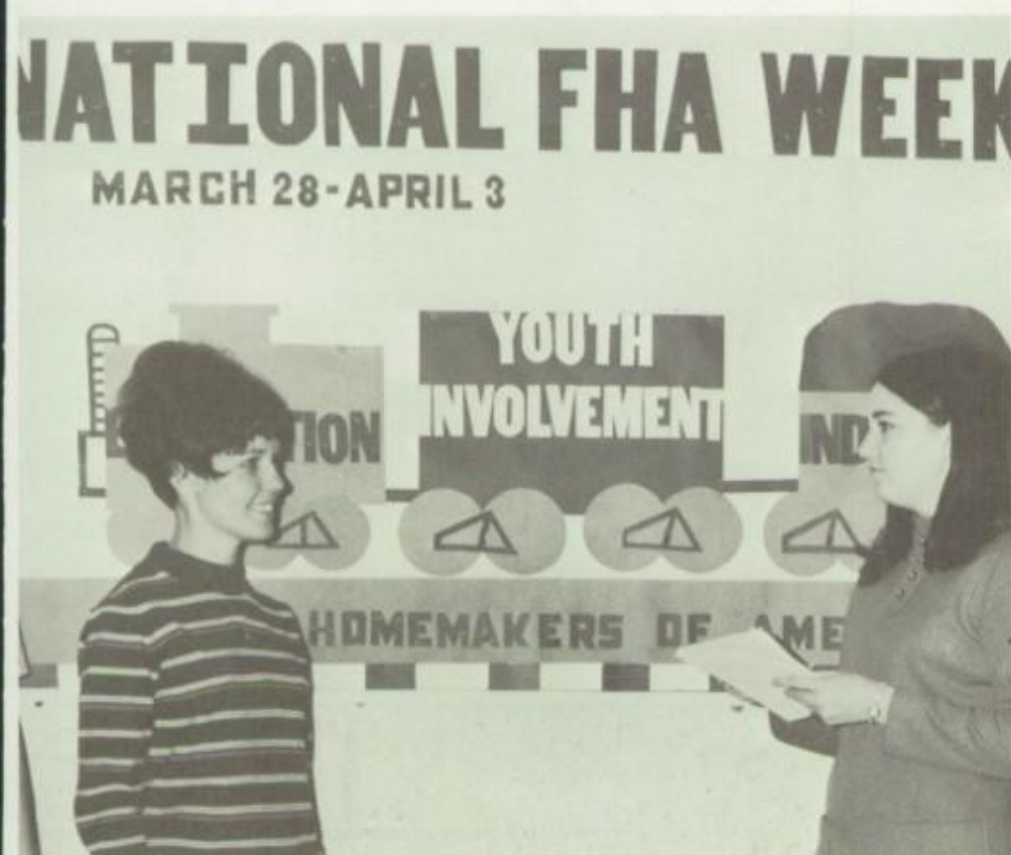

The Future homemakers of our community.

Mary Jones observes modeling by Fashion Debs.

National FHA week reaches its peak.

"Bring

the Cost of Living Down to Earth," theme of FHA Fair Exhibit. Dressing maimed dolls for bright-eyed little girls and the Salvation Army. District FHA Rally . . . Southern Wayne girls led one of the successful relaxers. Naked doors transformed into shiny gifts or snowy mailboxes at Christmas. An enthusiastic set of officers and over ninety members launched Future Homemakers of America into an active year. Five girls received their State Degrees and were feted to a tea by Mrs. Bob Scott at the State Convention in Raleigh. A sunshine basket was sent to Mrs. Fox; Gordon Bennett was chosen FHA Beau. To culminate an active year filled with outstanding service to home and community, Mrs. Jones and Miss Swann, advisors, guided the planning of the Mother-Daughter Banquet and National FHA Week. Held at the Goldsboro Motor Hotel, the banquet was a tremendous success.

Empty room

scattered with cloths and chocolate milk cartons. Only moments before, it was filled with a spinning fan, a muffled radio, a humming electric typewriter. Changing yearbook plants in mid-year. Hitting every nook and cranny of Goldsboro for ads by April. Deadlines that loom up in dreams at night. Disorganized organization. Million things to do that no one else can do. 11:30 p.m. — tired heads leaning on hard desks. Mini-quarrels within the family; eating each other's lunch. No! Time taken out to look at some other book to regain sanity. Fourth period is special period to any Tiebinder staffer. Other staffers are special people; Miss Summerlin is a special friend. An empty 203 at school's end tells the story of putting together a story. Friends and a book.

Editor Kathy Bell checks to see if files are up to date.

Totaling the day's subscription sales is Debra Harrell.

"Where would our yearbook be without Frank"?

The Bells' backyard was the scene of a cookout given for the staff.

Meals at the Summerlins' became a habit while working on the yearbook.

The 1971-72 Staff attends a yearbook clinic at Goldsboro.

Raking leaves

in cold November. Washing cars and vacuuming their interiors. One for a dime, three for a quarter, fifteen cake tickets for a dollar. Homecoming barbeque and booster tickets. "Candy sold only after fourth period." Sixteen sheets of firm Christmas wrapping paper for only a dollar. The Tiebinder Staff resorted to endless means to raise money in order to publish the best book possible.

Typing Senior information proves to be a tedious task.

Terry McFarland takes time out from his "girls."

Cathy Goodrich thinks about the past week's activities in New York.

Carolyn Pate assists Margaret Stevens in identifying pictures.

Impossible

to manage a tight, inflation-ridden budget without the eager Yearbook Assistant. Their bright-eyed enthusiasm and willing service brought much-needed money to the staff. In reward for their efforts, several won the opportunity to go to New York for the yearbook convention. Dedicated is the word for these hard workers. Basketball game tickets, cake tickets, barbeque tickets, and wrapping paper were "peddled" through their conscientiousness. A new section of the book, the Booster's Section, is tributed to their efforts.

Mary Gregory assists Connie Blackmore.

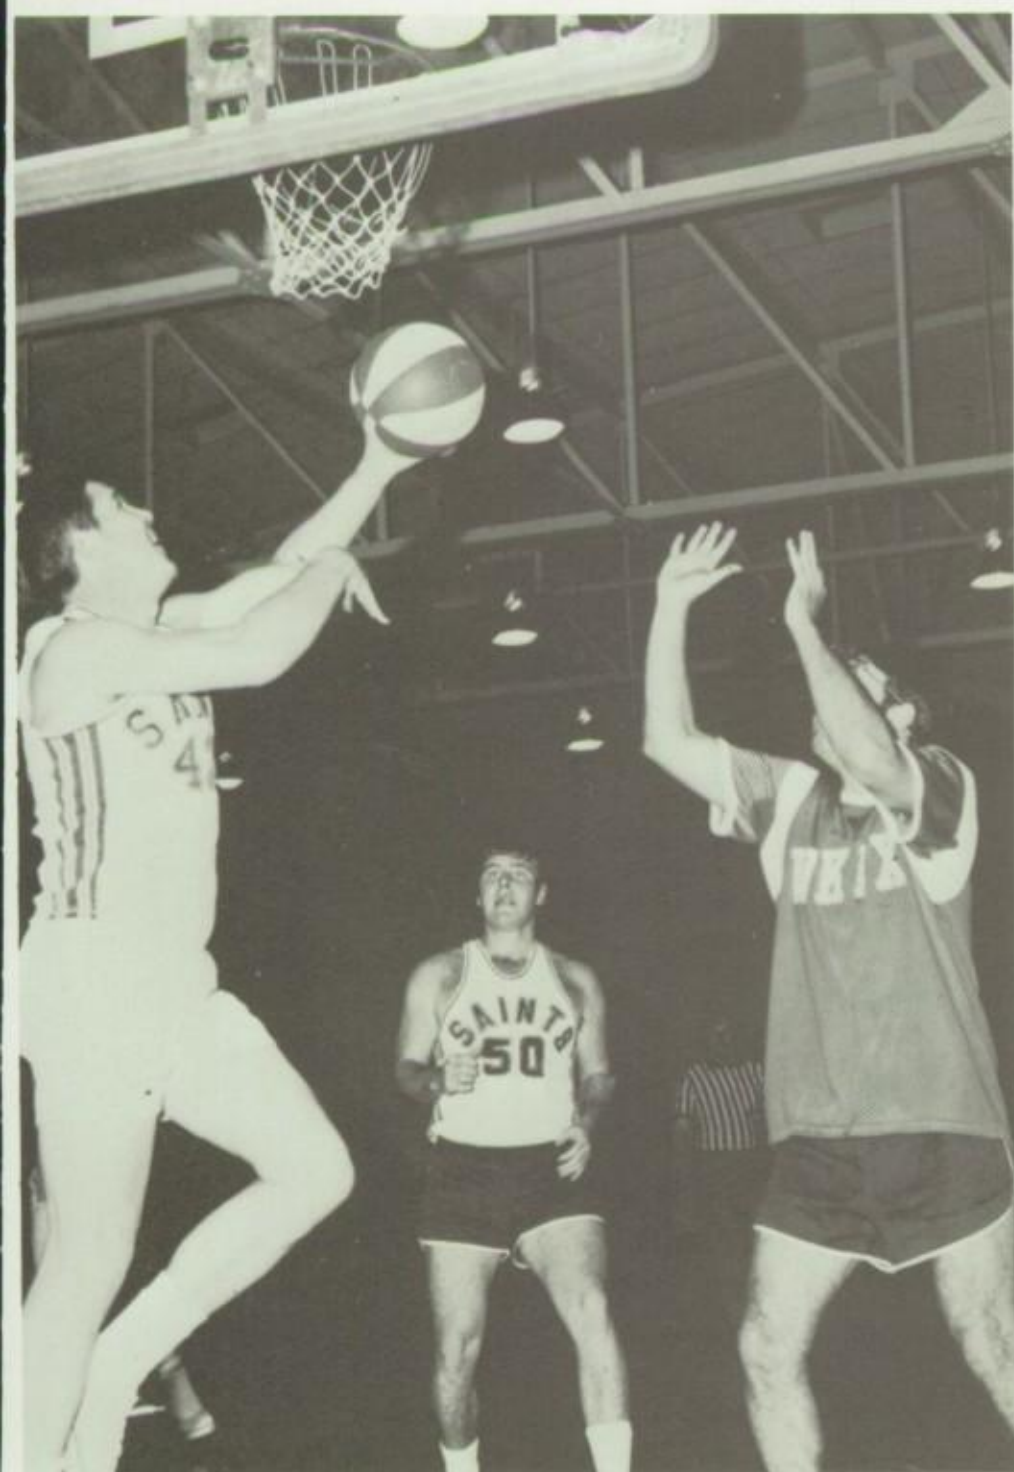

"Come on Mr. Brown, buy a pack from me. Betty has already sold 100"!

Lady faculty members turn cheerleaders to back the men.

KIX Kagers

versus Southern Wayne's all-time greats. 78-46 showed the athletic abilities of Coach Jimmy Adams, Mr. Jimmy Williams, Mr. J. D. Evans, and Mr. William Smith. KIX Kager Tommy Walker contributed greatly to his team with one point; Pat Patterson scored two points. True to their reputation, the KIX Kagers succumbed to our ferocious faculty. In another Tiebinder Staff sponsored game, the faculties of four area schools competed in a tournament. North Duplin challenged Eastern Wayne; Southern Wayne met C. B. Aycock. The action was not always fast; but, the players were willing.

Principal Jimmy Williams aids the Saint cause against the KIX Kagers.

Meadowlark Lemon? No, Southern Wayne's own J. D. Evans.

Safety pins

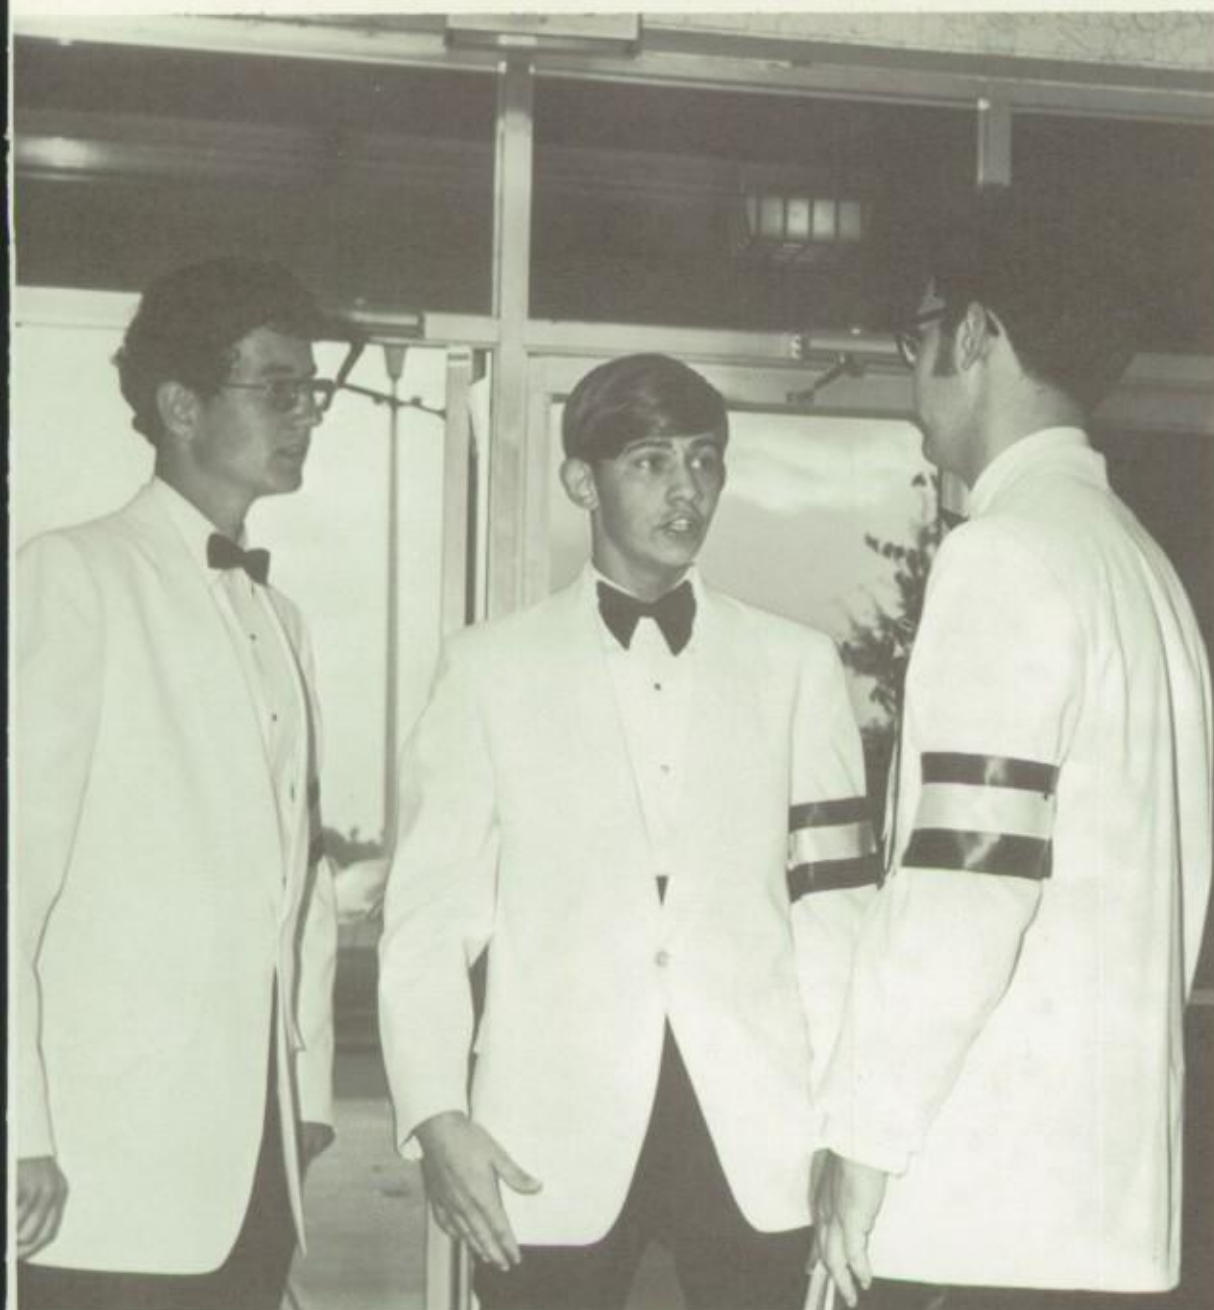

found somehow by marshals for excited graduates. Reassuring smiles that there really are enough chairs in the rows at Baccalaureate. Immaculate white distinguished these deserving underclassmen. Hours of hard work, point-counting, and cramming were avenged by the honor of wearing that blue and white ribbon. Marshals proved that brains and personality do mix through their dignified service.

Miriam Jernigan helps a questioning guest.

Smiling, courteous, and friendly — marshals always prove worthy of their honor.

Bustling lines await the march to the Baccalaureate Sermon.

A quiet look of joyful anticipation.

Perfection in everything is wanted on Graduation Night.

Sudden

realization that it's all over. Final moments before the end held a little longer, carved into memory. An anguished-ecstatic "This is it," as tassels turn. No more seven-period days, blue slips, lunchroom confidences. A flash of retrospective events dating back to first grade tears and freshman panics. Parchment that bears a name, a date, a title. One night's action casting "students" into the "adult" world. Mama and Daddy won't be there anymore. A life awaits; a life that each individual must mold into his own. Old friends yield to new faces. Old places of security are left for bright scenes. Marriage means a settled life soon; service means discipline beyond any ever experienced; college means the classes, exams, and alarm clocks begin anew. Graduation is the end of the beginning. A step from fantasy into reality. An eternal struggle toward goals. A choice of a way of life as the cap and gowns are returned.

Baccalaureate Speaker, Rev. Isaac B. Horton.

The long awaited and long sought for trek to the athletic field and Graduation.

I am a part of all that I have met;
Yet all experience is an arch where-thro'

Gleams that untravell'd world, whose margin fades

For ever and for ever when I move.

"Ulysses"

Alfred, Lord Tennyson

Gold cords

dangling around young necks during class. Evidence to the whole school of special work. Dignified cords against blue gowns in the processional. Tokens of four years of studious effort. Twenty-nine Honor Graduates graced the 1970-71 graduating class, the most ever honored in a Southern Wayne class.

Keen ears and throbbing hearts listen to Graduation Address.

Honor graduate Kathy Bell proudly displays her honor cord.

Awaiting the entrance of the Seniors.

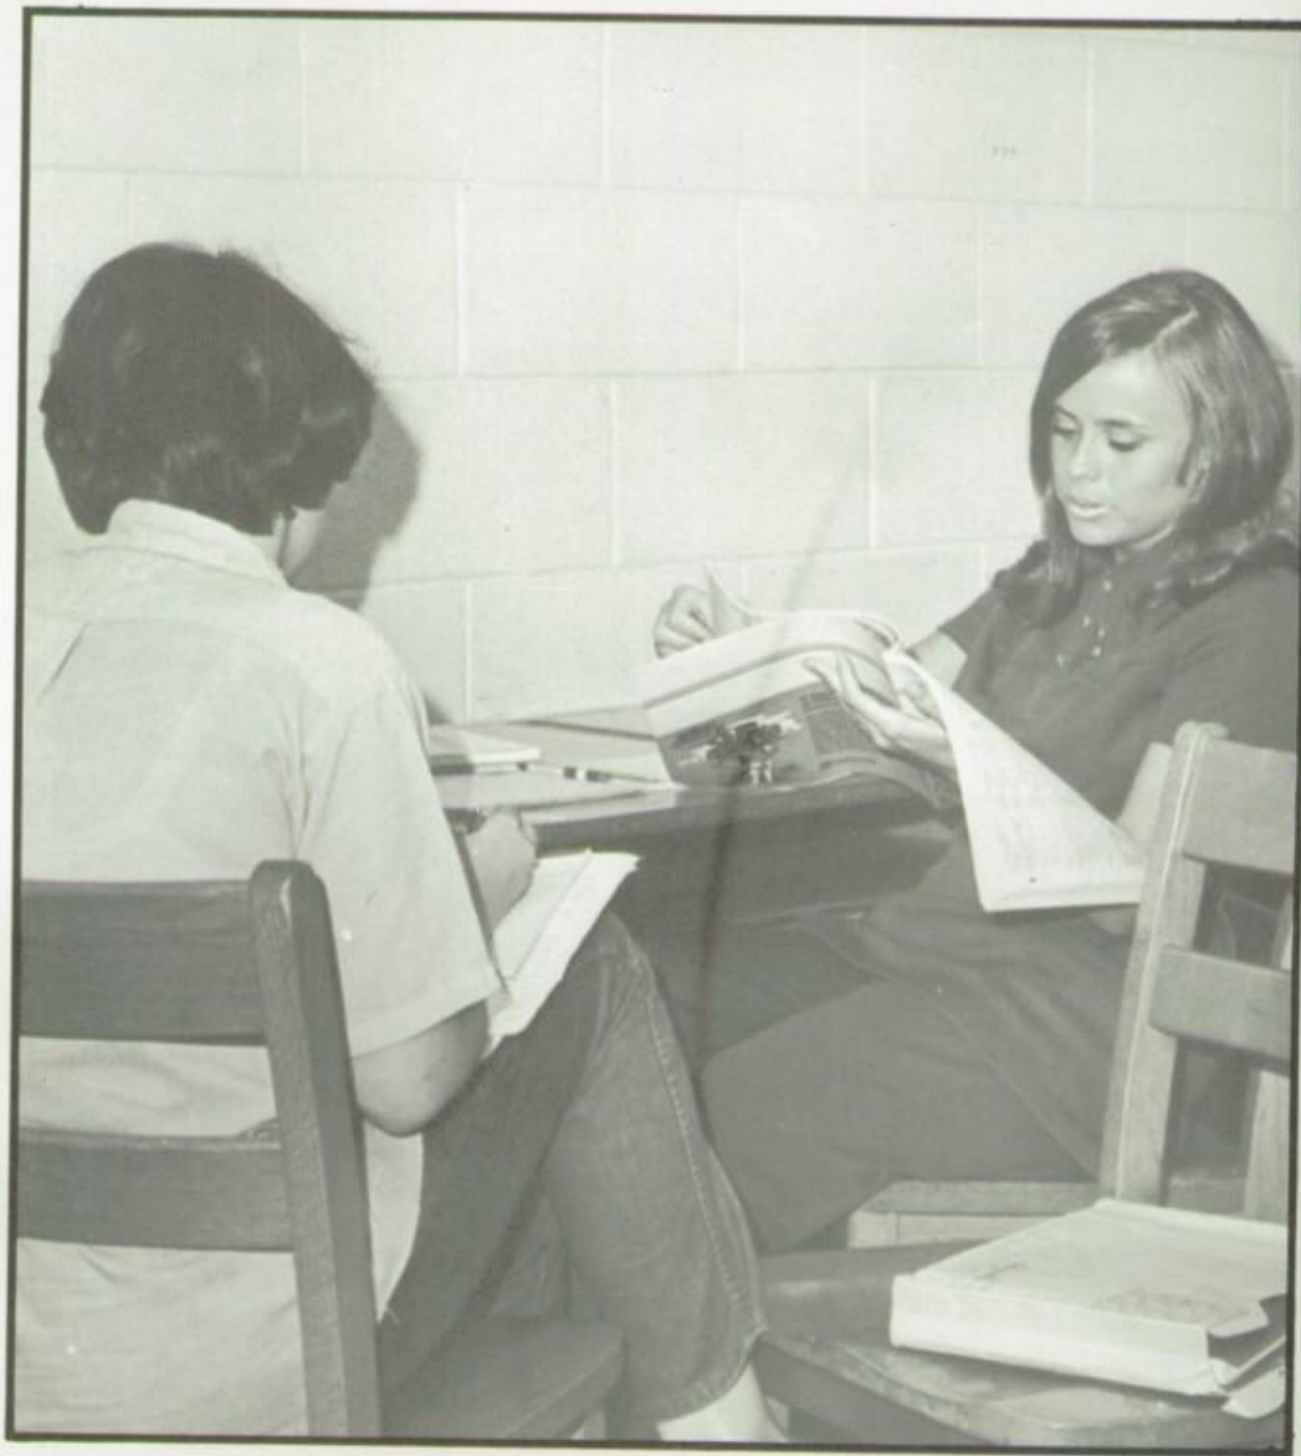

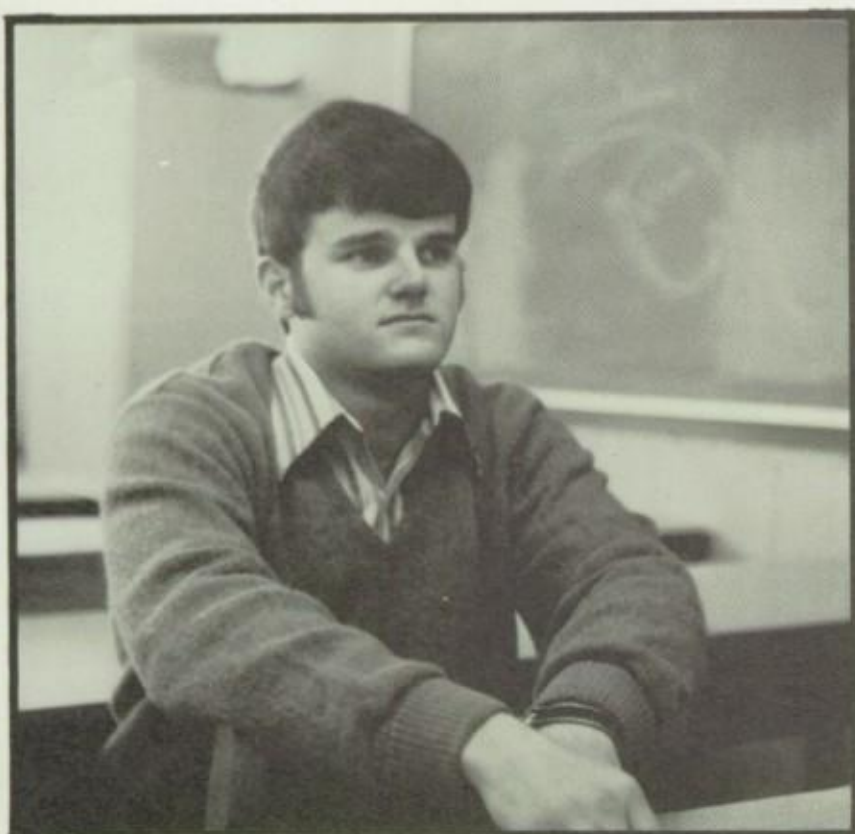

Mrs. Sandra Roberts eagerly works to line up Seniors.

Friendly,

cheerful, and funny are only some of Miss Mary Ann Oates' virtues. Everybody's friend, she is always interested in every student. Clusters of teens gather around her room each morning to share her laughter. Even teachers look to her for valued, objective opinions. Miss Oates always has time for others.

Tiebinder

is the bin of a year's school memories. It connects the school together from year to year through pictures that hold time still. From her hidden word-coining abilities, Miss Oates invented a unique yearbook name which suits our school's ambition well. It is only appropriate that Miss Oates dub the yearbook the Tiebinder because she is a tiebinder herself; an effort to tie not only two schools together but also to bring two races together. What name would better fit the yearbook representing our school?

Blueberry pie,

Milky Ways from Aunt Hazel's and a cheerful voice are how the staff will remember our Advisor's Mother, Mrs. McCoy Summerlin. She not only fed us home-cooked meals, she also sacrificed her living room to layout sheets, cropping scales and dirty feet for several days. Her infinite patience and pleasantness were great boosts to our efforts.

"The Staff,"

as we are known, would be nonexistent if Southern Wayne were not blessed with Principal Jimmy Williams. Only because of his steadfast backing have yearbooks been published each year. This year's staff and all previous yearbook people extend well-earned appreciation to this man. In his first year as principal, he obtained advertising for yearbook staffs again from the county board. Whenever we needed him, he was here. His concern gave us opportunities for numerous fundraising projects which enabled us to publish yearbooks that covered all areas of student activity. The involvement he exhibits toward the staff is only a partial view of his total attitude towards the school. He cares about the yearbook because it is the one facet of school life which can represent the whole student body. It will be very difficult to replace his attentive concern and cherished help. We are grateful for your indulgence, your tolerance, and your aid. But, above all else, we thank you that you cared.

— TIEBINDER STAFF

Yesterday,
all my troubles
seemed so far away . . .
Yesterday
we stood in moonlit silence,
Whispering
confused ponderings of life,
Not knowing
why nor how,
Only wondering.

Yesterday is gone
and with it our blanket.

Crawl out and see the world.

It's ugly-pretty,
happy-sad,
And we are all alone . . .
Unless
we keep each other.

Yesterday is gone.
What is tomorrow?

We will look back to see,
we will know from this that now we are Tomorrow's Yesterday.
